Celgar Forest License Application Approved

Kennedy Passes Company's Plans to Commence $65,000,000 Investment in Arrow Lakes Area
Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kennedy today approved Celgar Development Company's application for a forest management license, covering nearly 1,000,000 acres in the Arrow Lakes region.

Celgar plans a $65,000,000 investment in an integrated forest industry in the area. Plans call for construction of a sulphate mill, newsprint mill and sawmills.

Treaty on European Army Signed; Soviets Warned

Reds Respond by Cutting East-West Communication

PARIS, May 27 (AP)—The Big Three powers backed up the six-country European army pact today with a new declaration that they would consider a Communist attack on Berlin, West Germany or any other part of free Europe a "threat to their own security."

The declaration was coincident with the signing of the army pact and related agreements by Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg which, when ratified, will merge their armed forces into a single army of 1,000,000 men—history's first peacetime international force.

The pact is a companion to the peace treaty signed at Bonn Monday by the three western powers and the West German republic. Just before the ceremonies Communists cut telephone communications between East and West Berlin and 17 long-distance lines between Berlin and West Germany. Russian border guards again stopped Allied jeeps from patrolling Berlin's highway link with the west.

The new declaration by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France and State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States, said:

"The government of the United Kingdom and the U.S. have an abiding interest, as has the government of France, in the effectiveness of the treaty creating the European defense community and in the strength and integrity of that community."

"Accordingly, if any action from whatever quarter threatens the integrity or unity of the community, the two governments will regard this as a threat to their own security."

France, in the European army pact, already is linked with West Germany in mutual defence.

WEATHER SHIP SEEKS HELP FOR SEAMAN

R.C.N. Answers Emergency Call

H.M.C.S. Ontario is today racing against time across 800 miles of open Pacific to bring medical aid to an injured Victoria boy aboard the weather ship Stonetown at Station Peter.

The boy, a 17-year-old waiter in the ship, is K. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Stevens, 18 Hampton Road.

Exact nature of his injury is not known, but on May 1st, he had his appendix removed, and Monday night he fell heavily against a metal fire extinguisher, and sharp, heavy pains in the region of his appendix resulted.

Capt. James McNicoll, master of Stonetown, wireless department of transport agent T. E. Morrison that the boy's temperature was 97 and his pulse down to 56, and that pains were recurring at intervals of two or three minutes.

Mr. Morrison appealed to the Royal Canadian Navy's Pacific Command for help, and at 2 a.m. today, Ontario was ordered to break off her training voyage to San Diego and make a meet with Stonetown.

At the same time, Stonetown left her weather station and headed for the rendezvous with the cruiser, which is equipped with a complete sick bay and operating facilities, in charge of Surgeon-Commander J. W. Rogers.

The ships, which were about 800 miles apart, expected to meet about midnight tonight. Meanwhile, Ontario is in communication with Stonetown, and medical investigations are being sent. The Victoria doctors who performed the appendectomy on young Stevens have wirelessed his case history to the two ships.

Weather is reported as "fairly good," although a 30-knot wind was blowing at Station Peter last night. Air-Sea Rescue headquarters in Vancouver ruled out a plane landing as too dangerous for the patient in the deep, rolling Pacific swells.

Surg.-Cmdr. Rogers is now in charge of the case, and will decide whether to take the patient into Ontario's sick bay, or rush him to shore.

Ontario left Victoria Monday morning on the first leg of a training cruise to San Diego, Vancouver and Alaska.

Mrs. Stevens, mother of the injured boy, is herself recuperating from an accident. She has a broken leg.

Third Fire On Vancouver Waterfront

VANCOUVER, May 27 (CP).—A roaring fire on the loading dock of the Shell Oil refinery at Shellburn in suburban North Burnaby was brought under control about 10 a.m. today after a two-hour battle by firemen.

The fire, third waterfront blaze in recent months, started shortly before 8 a.m. and was followed by a series of small explosions as drums of gas and oil on the dock blew up.

The fire is believed to have started under the dock. The cause is not known.

The American tanker loaded with 40,000 barrels of oil, was badly scorched before it was pulled from the dock. Another tanker, the Western Shell of Vancouver, was also badly scorched before it got into open water.

George Gardiner, refinery manager, estimated the damage at little more than $5,000.

Appeal Based On Direction

VANCOUVER, May 27 (CP).—The defence for Albert Fairweather, 25-year-old logger convicted of the knife-slashing of Raymond Boyce, 23, last September 20, rested its case in appeal court Monday on only one point.

Fairweather was convicted of murder at the Nanaimo assizes two months ago and sentenced to be hanged here July 3.

James J. Sutherland, defense counsel, based his appeal on alleged misdirection by Mr. Justice Cline to the jury on the law of provocation.

Fairweather testified that following a tussle with Boyce he picked up a knife and Boyce tripped and fell on it.

Mr. Sutherland contended that the trial judge erred in instructing the jury that provocation must be such that a man does not know what he is doing.

Expelled Nuns Here From China

Murder Confession Extortion Plan Failed, Sisters Reveal, But Workers Are Jailed

By AILEEN CAMPBELL

Ordered out of China by the Communists, two Catholic nuns, now in Victoria, said today their imprisoned superior and her assistant did not receive justice at the hands of the Chinese Reds.

"There was no justice," they said in French, through an interpreter, when interviewed at the Chinese Catholic Mission.

The nuns who arrived in Vancouver last Thursday are Sister Rose de Lima, who spent 23 years in China, and Sister St. Martin, who had been five years in the Far East.

They will leave here after a rest, June 2, for the mother house of their order—Les Soeurs de Notre Dame des Anges—at Sherbrooke, Quebec.

MURDER CHARGE
The imprisoned sisters were charged with killing children at an orphanage at Kwei Yang, capital city of the province of Kwei Chow.

"They wanted Sister Superior to sign papers stating they killed these people," Sister Rose said through interpreter Sister St. Conrad.

"She and her assistant refused, and were taken to prison. The Communists came to the orphanage with a list. They asked the sister if she was the one responsible for the orphanage. Then they took her away."

"We never saw them after that. We couldn't talk to them and when we asked if we could see them without talking, we were denied."

The sisters had no lawyer or legal counsel.

"No one would take a defense," remarked the interpreter.

RUN BY CHINESE
According to Sister Rose the orphanage was run by Chinese sisters of a special congregation but under direction of the white sisters.

"We took care of the orphanage in an indirect way," she said. "We were not ill-treated."

Sister Rose said, referring to herself and Sister St. Martin, "They questioned more the native Chinese."

She said the Communists took the sisters' money and the mission money. They were forced to put it in banks but could not draw it when they left, she said.

"We were obliged to leave," Sister Rose recounted. "They called us Dec. 21 and told us to leave by Dec. 27."

They had to apply to one of their houses in Hong Kong for sufficient funds to journey home. There were delays owing to transportation and financial difficulties.

Germany Told Not to Deviate

Britain and the U.S. thus served notice on Germany, in answer to French desires, that she must not attempt to withdraw from the European army on a lone-wolf course once her armed forces are built up.

The declaration added that the three big powers considered their continued presence in Berlin as "essential elements of the peace of the free world in the present international position."

In addition, the members of N.A.T.O. and the European Army signed protocols pledging each organization to come to the help of the other in the event of armed attack—a guarantee chiefly to West Germany since the others are covered by the Atlantic alliance.

But despite the array of diplomatic leaders here for the impressive signing ceremonies, the European Army Treaty—like the West German Pact—today is many months away from being an effective order to assemble a fighting force. Until both pacts are ratified by the parliaments behind each signer, neither comes into force. Both documents face bitter, determined opposition.

The signing starts about 5 p.m. in the ornate Clock Room of the French foreign ministry. With the treaty and eight related agreements to be endorsed, the process will be a long one. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer leads the alphabetical parade of nations—"Allemagne" is French for German.

The basic treaty provides for the six-nation European Defense Community and its single armed force.

The agreements cover secret military arrangements for actual deployment of the European army and such relationships as those between the E.D.C. and N.A.T.O.

Britain, U.S. to Keep Forces

Britain and the U.S. are believed to have assured the European powers they will keep their present troops in Europe as long as necessary and that they will do whatever is necessary to insure that no E.D.C. member—particularly Germany—will quit the European army and build up a force of its own.

The Eden-Schuman-Acheson schedule here also included a separate conference on Russia's bitter opposition to the army and German pacts and its weekend demand for an immediate Big Four conference to unify Germany and write a peace treaty for the whole of the defeated nation.

Optimists hope the European Army Treaty will be ratified by the end of this year. When—and if—it is, Germany will start building a force of some 400,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen for the six-nation command.

The treaty envisages an army of about 41 streamlined divisions—it calls them combat groups—of some 13,000 men each.

IN NATIONAL BY-ELECTIONS

Tories Win Four Out Of Six Federal Seats

OTTAWA, May 27 (CP).—Progressive Conservatives Monday won four of six federal by-elections, retaining one seat and gaining three traditionally Liberal constituencies. Liberals retained two seats with majorities cut.

The Progressive Conservatives now have gained 8 seats from the Liberals in by-elections since the 1949 general election when the Liberal government was elected with a record-breaking majority.

In 28 by-elections since 1949, Progressive Conservatives won 13 and Liberals 13. Three of the Liberals ran as Independents or Independent Liberals and later were officially admitted to the party. The other two seats were won by Independent Liberals.

Monday's by-elections were in New Brunswick, Ontario and Quebec.

The outcome in brief: Progressive Conservatives Gained Gloucester in New Brunswick, a Liberal seat for the last 52 years; Ontario constituency and Roberval in Quebec. They retained Victoria-Carleton in New Brunswick.

Liberals: Retained Waterloo North in Ontario and Bromfield in Quebec.

The new Commons standing:

Liberals, 183; Progressive Conservatives 49; C.C.F., 13; Social Credit, 10; Independent, four; Independent Liberal, two; vacant, one. Total 262.

The vacancy for which no by-election has been set is in Outremont, St. Jean, Que.

Commenting on the results, Prime Minister St. Laurent said he will not pretend he is not disappointed.

"But," he added, "I believe important circumstances were local factors and that the results do not represent any lack of confidence in the major policies of the government."

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said he is "very happy that our candidates have received so decisive an expression of confidence from such a broad cross-section of our country."

Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. whip, speaking for his party in the absence of M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, regretted that no C.C.F. candidates had won.

The biggest upset came in Gloucester. The last time a Conservative won the New Brunswick seat was in 1896.

A. M. Robichaud, 49-year-old Bathurst lawyer, led for the Progressive Conservatives from the outset. With 64 of 71 polls reported, he had 10,049 votes to 8,770 for H. J. Robichaud, 40-year-old Liberal from Bathurst.

In Victoria-Carleton, Gage W. Montgomery, 54-year-old Woodstock barrister, received 9,511 votes compared with 7,151 for his Liberal opponent—Hugh Tait, 34-year-old publisher of the Woodstock weekly, Sentinel-Press.

In Roberval, Paul Spence, 45-year-old Mistassini accountant, won for the Progressive Conservatives.

The returns made it apparent that the presence of two Liberal candidates—one official and one independent—split the Liberal vote.

In Ontario constituency—held almost continuously by the Liberals since 1924—Mayor Michael Starr of Oshawa won for the Progressive Conservatives against John L. Lay, 30-year-old nephew of former Prime Minister King, and H. R. Scott, C.C.F.

Waterloo North, a Liberal seat since 1917, was retained for the Liberals by Norman C. Schneider, 63-year-old meat-packing executive, but he had tough opposition from 34-year-old Elizabeth Janzen, Progressive Conservative.

In Bromfield-Missisquoi—another traditionally Liberal seat—Joseph Le Deslauriers, 55-year-old mayor of Sutton, had no trouble retaining the seat for the Liberals.

Red Clamor Fizzles Out As Ridgway Tours Paris

Tells France Experience in Korea Convincing Proof Nations Can Combine to Beat Communism

PARIS, May 27 (AP)—Gen. Matthew Ridgway returned to Europe today to take command of the fighting forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and said his experience in Korea convinced him a sound defense against Communism here can be built from a combination of many countries.

Then, accompanied by Gen. Eisenhower, whom he is to succeed three days hence, he drove through the streets of Paris in contempt of Communist threats to stage hostile demonstrations against "Le General Microbe," as they call him.

Ridgway stepped out of his plane at Orly Field 10 days short of eight years after he parachuted into Normandy on D-Day. The field was almost black with French police determined to snuff out Communist demonstrations. Twenty thousand other police were massed along a route, a short circuit direct to S.H.A.P.E.

Asked if he expected any military action from the Russians, he replied, "anything which is a capability is always a possibility. There is great capability there. I would not want to go any farther."

Ridgway, who gave up his command of U.N. forces in the Far East to come here, told correspondents, "What I saw in Korea is something on which we can rest solid hope."

"There we had 16 nations of all languages and creeds mixed in our fighting force. They had pride in their organization and found complete mutual confidence in battle."

"If we can do that in one place in spite of barriers of language, differences in food and other factors, I have no reason to believe that it cannot be done elsewhere."

COMMIE SLOGANS

Ridgway rode in a car with Defense Minister Rene Pleven of France. He was preceded by the car carrying Eisenhower and Interior Minister Charles Brune. As he passed through working-class suburbs, Ridgway could see partly scrubbed-out Communist slogans painted on walls saying, "Ridgway Go Home."

French authorities chose the entry route as a gesture of contempt to Communists who threatened to demonstrate against the arrival. The direct route from the airfield to S.H.A.P.E. bypasses the city, but the government wanted to show they could handle the Reds.

Eisenhower will turn over the actual command of N.A.T.O. forces to his successor on Friday, just before he takes off for the United States.

Doll Show Held Over For Solarium Benefit

More than 1,000 persons every day have been visiting the display of 2,000 dolls, made by Bernard and Francis Ravca, on show at the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company store, for the benefit of the Solarium. The exhibit has been held over for the remainder of this week.

Unsupervised Strike Votes, Liberal Plan

Wisner Says Party Will Return Rights

Special to the Times

WELLS, May 27—A Liberal government will restore the rights of trade unions to hold unsupervised strike votes, Attorney-General Gordon Wisner told this busy mining community Sunday night.

That right is inalienable labor's and the heritage of free men, Mr. Wisner declared.

Only if irregularities occurred, he said, would it be necessary to scrutinize these ballots.

The attorney-general promised his party would amend the B.C.'s Labor Act, the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

The amendments would give labor greater protection, he declared.

Removal of the compulsory supervised strike vote was recommended by a special house committee which probed the Labor Act.

Eric Wise presided over a meeting held in support of Angus McLean, last sitting M.L.A. for Cariboo.

John Cates, minister of labor, who is not standing for re-election with the Liberal party, would not comment on the statement Mr. Wisner was reported to have made at Wells.

He could not speak for the government at this point, Mr. Cates said. He had not heard of any definite undertaking to abandon the supervised strike vote.

The Liberal platform is broad in this direction. It undertakes to study all recommendations of the special committee of the legislature on labor reform, but gives no specific undertakings.

24 South Koreans Die in Ship Crash

TOKYO, May 27 (AP)—The United States navy said today 24 south Korean seamen were killed and 21 injured May 21 in a collision between the south Korean frigate Apnok and the U.S. ammunition carrier Mount Baker in Korean waters.

There were no injuries aboard the Mount Baker and damage to the ship was minor, the navy said.

The ships were steaming in formation in darkness when a signal was given to change course. The Apnok passed close ahead of the Mount Baker, which was unable to prevent collision.

SOAP BOX RACE DRIVERS HURT BUT HOSPITAL REST IS CURE

CHEMUNUS, May 27—Two over-eager soap box racers who continued to race past the finish line and crashed the barrier are none the worse for their experience.

Dicky McGahey and Rudy Ordano were both knocked unconscious in the crash, and were kept in hospital overnight.

Junior and senior winners were Tommy Millard and Lance Higgs.

More than 1,000 witnessed the crowning of Max Queen Margaret Irvine, and the half-mile-long parade with 25 floats, marching groups and children's organizations.

Veiled Threat Seen In Truce Talk Turn

MUNSAN, Korea, May 27 (AP)—Communist truce negotiators today made a veiled threat of a Red offensive as Korean armistice talks resumed after a three-day recess—but immediately bogged down over the prisoner-of-war issue.

The prisoner issue alone blocks an armistice. The Reds demand return of all their captured soldiers. The United Nations command says none will be forced to return against his will.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il repeated his well-worn charges that the Allies have been slaughtering P.O.W.'s. He referred to the April 10 riots on Kojima Island which were disclosed during the recess. Then he declared:

'Cossack' Hero Promoted by Queen

LONDON, May 27 (Reuters)—Admiral Sir Philip Vian, 58, who achieved fame when he ran H.M.S. Cossack alongside the German prison ship Altmir in Josing Fjord during the Second World War to free captured British seamen, has been made an admiral of the fleet effective June 1.

Normally, there would be no promotion to admiral on the fleet until October, 1953. But since Vian would soon have been placed on the retired list, the Queen approved the special promotion.

Threats of Country-Wide Strike In Africa Grow as Unionist Held

JOHANNESBURG, May 27 (AP)—E. S. Sachs, South African Garment Workers' Union boss, was back in jail today for trying to make the anti-government speech that got him arrested Saturday. This time he was ordered to stay there 16 days and police turned down appeals that the labor leader be freed on bail.

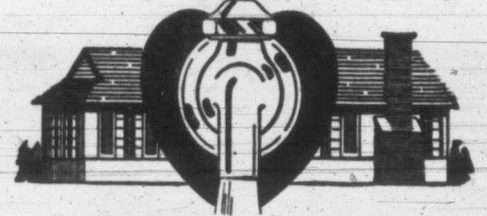

Sachs was brought into court for trying to address several thousand persons Monday from the steps of the Johannesburg city hall. He tried to speak from these same steps Saturday but police arrested him on charges he had violated South Africa's anti-Red laws. Hundreds were injured in a resulting clash with police.

Sachs' arrest brought threats of a country-wide general strike from the powerful Federation of Trades and Labor Councils.

The case touched off a Parliamentary squabble in Capetown, where leaders of the Opposition United Party charged Malan and his fellow Nationalist Party members were pro-Nazi at the outbreak of the Second World War.

PLAGUE—Authorities today reported three further outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease in Britain bringing the total since the epidemic began last November to 368.

Two of the outbreaks occurred in Sussex in the south and the third in Staffordshire in the west Midlands.

Livestock slaughtered to check infection now total 43,907.

RECOVERING—In Vancouver two persons are in good condition in Vancouver hospitals today following separate airplane mercy flights Monday from coastal points.

They are David Folb, a 25-year-old logger injured at Woodfibre, and Jimmy McLeod, four-year-old boy injured at Port Alice on Vancouver Island.

Folb, an employee of the Alaska Pine Company Limited, fell from a water tower and landed on an iron rail below, suffering internal injuries. He was flown here late Monday.

The McLeod boy suffered back injuries when a log fell on him. An R.C.A.F. Canoe plane flew him here from Port Alice.

CRITICIZED—In Maple Creek, Sask., the federal government's handling of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan was criticized by national leader M. J. Coldwell of the C.C.F. party at a public meeting here Monday night.

Mr. Coldwell also had some sharp criticism for a whispering campaign which he said was intended to discredit the C.C.F. leaders in the province.

Speaking to more than 700 persons in his first campaign speech for the June 11 Saskatchewan election, Mr. Coldwell said he was not a member of the federal foot-and-mouth investigation committee but he could say Agriculture Minister Gardiner made every attempt to smother the investigation.

ARRESTED—In Pembroke, Ont., police today arrested another army man in connection with thefts at nearby Petawawa military camp.

Charged with theft in connection with removal of battle-ship lineoleum from the camp is Staff Sgt. E. Humphrey of St. Johns, Que., a member of the Royal Canadian Engineers. Five other men, all Pembroke civilians, were arrested Monday.

Arrest of Staff Sgt. Humphrey brings to 13 the number of persons so far charged in connection with the Petawawa thefts, including three army personnel.

500,000 in Barcelona For Eucharist Congress

BARCELONA, Spain, May 27 (AP)—The purple-robed Cardinals, Archbishops in violet and Roman Catholic pilgrims from all over the world gathered in this ancient city today to pray for peace at the opening of the 35th International Eucharistic Congress.

The Congress—first in 14 years—opens officially with the arrival this afternoon of the Pope's representative, Federico Cardinal Tedeschini. Already 500,000 visiting faithful jammed Barcelona.

Among the pilgrims were many Canadians, led by Archbishop Alexandre Vachon of Ottawa and Archbishop Maurice Roy of Quebec.

Archbishop Vachon, who will deliver an address during the Congress, has been appointed by the Pope as president of the permanent committee in charge of Eucharistic Congresses.

Tedeschini inaugurates the Congress—first held in Lille in 1881—with the singing tonight of the Veni Creator in Barcelona's Cathedral. The official program concludes Monday.

Valor Award For Victorian

Sgt. R. G. Buxton Wins D.C.M. in Korea;
Cited for 'Determination, Courage'

Sergeant Richard George Buxton, 26, member of Victoria's largest family—all the men with service records—has been given the immediate award in the field of the Distinguished Conduct Medal "for gallantry and leadership" in Korea.

With the famous 1st Infantry Battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Regiment, Sgt. Buxton is the son of Mrs. P. H. B. Buxton, 563 Head, and the late "Titch" Buxton. There are 13 other children in the family, the seven brothers in service now or with previous war service records.

Pte. Freddy Buxton (now with the Esquimalt police) and Sgt. Billy Buxton, with the army in the interior, are the two boxing members. At home and overseas in Second World War the Buxton boys made quite a reputation for themselves in the boxing ring.

This is believed to be the first award of its kind for gallantry in action bestowed upon Canadian fighting men of the 25th Infantry Brigade in the front line of the Far Eastern war zone.

The citation shows that Sgt. Richard is living up to the reputation built up by his family over the years as being of "good intelligent fighting stock" when the going gets rough.

According to the citation, Sgt. Buxton refused to be evacuated although he was wounded in the shoulder while commanding a platoon of infantry that beat off a "fanatical" Chinese attack on his position north of the Imjin River last March 26, the army announcement said.

More than 200 enemy shells fell on the small platoon position in 20 minutes. Sgt. Buxton was wounded by one of the first but, in spite of this and with complete disregard for his own safety he moved around the positions, encouraging his men and re-deploying the platoon to meet further attacks coming from the rear.

The platoon had been caught in a three-pronged pincer by Chinese attacks.

Though wounded, Sgt. Buxton directed the defense of his locality throughout the night. By 3 a.m. the platoon was running short of ammunition and had suffered several casualties. Sgt. Buxton personally supervised collection of casualties and requested additional ammunition.

Only at dawn, after he had reorganized the remaining troops of

Two Men Killed On Pipeline Job

EDMONTON, May 27 (CP)—Two men are dead and a third is in hospital as a result of an accident on the Trans-Mountain Pipeline construction job at Red Pass Junction, 225 miles west of Edmonton.

Details of the mishap were not known here.

Nick Voynovich of Edson, Alta., was dead on arrival at hospital in Edmonton and William Henry of Vancouver died early today in hospital at Jasper. Voynovich was flown to Edmonton for treatment.

An unidentified man is in hospital at Jasper. Condition of the injured man was not known.

The best cigarette NEWS for over 40 years!

...THE FILTER TIP protects your throat

WHAT THE FILTER TIP DOES

It stops particles of tobacco getting into the throat.

It is the common-sense method of preventing smoker's throat because it effectively retains irritants.

It guards physical fitness.

It brings out the flavour and makes the smoke delightfully sweet and cool.

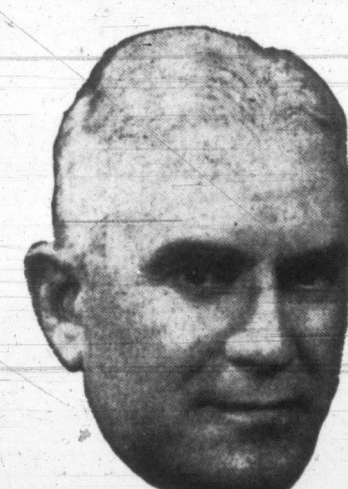

You can light your first du Maurier confident of better smoking. A du Maurier cigarette is a new experience. Scrupulous care is taken in choosing and blending the tobacco for rich and distinctive flavour. Then the particular filter tip—which selects and withholds whatever might taint or tarnish the natural smoke with any heat or harshness—keeps that flavour always cool and mellow. For these reasons the pleasure you find in your first experience will not be a thing that passes: you will find it renewed in every du Maurier you smoke.

There'll never be a better cigarette

Where Is the Alternative?

MR. W. A. C. BENNETT'S BOAST that the Social Credit party will carry 37 seats and control the next provincial legislature is the sort of grandiose whistling which deceives nobody. The Social Credit party will be extremely fortunate if it carries a single seat in the next legislature. Even Mr. Bennett faces a very doubtful fight for his own constituency of South Okanagan, where he will split the right-wing vote with the official Conservative candidate.

The Social Credit party has only a nuisance value in terms of votes. No doubt, by securing some of the floating protest vote, it will cut into the C.C.F., and, on the other hand, being essentially a right-wing movement and in many places merely a protest against the present leadership of Mr. Anscomb, will damage Conservative candidates. Being also a satellite of the Alberta government, managed by an Alberta politician because it cannot even choose a local leader, it cannot greatly impress the electors of British Columbia who are capable of managing their own affairs.

The net effect of Social Credit in this province so far is only confusion. This is not surprising when the movement itself is so confused that it can neither appoint a leader nor outline anything which can be called a policy.

As the election campaign enters its last phase it becomes clear that the Liberal party is the only party which can hope to secure a majority in the next legislature and provide stable government.

Whatever one may think of the Liberal party, its policies in the main are known because they are on the record of the last 36 years, in which it has been continuously in office, with a five-year interregnum. By that experience the electors know what they will get from another Liberal government. They also know that if the Liberal party has made mistakes in office, as often noted here, British Columbia under its management has made larger economic progress and achieved larger social reforms than any province in Canada.

On the other hand, the campaign of Mr. Anscomb must have been, up to now anyway, a disappointment even to his friends. What precisely does Mr. Anscomb offer as an alternative to the Liberal government? He offers only one clear policy—he would abolish the present hospital insurance scheme, leave the public to insure itself or not as it pleased and return the hospitals to their old plight of unpaid bills and ruinous deficits.

It is surprising indeed when the Liberal party has been in office so long that an opposition leader cannot find a serious point of criticism against it, except the hospital insurance scheme, for which the Conservatives voted. The electors must have been waiting to hear Mr. Anscomb's real case against the government and his own alternative policies. They have heard neither.

Mr. Anscomb evidently has decided to ride through the campaign on platitudes and pleasantries. No one can possibly know what kind of government British Columbia would receive from him and his party.

They know the Liberal record. They know the C.C.F.'s plan to introduce socialism into British Columbia, place its economy under the control of Mr. Winch and thus inevitably discourage the present expansion of our industries. They do not know what Social Credit means, since its advocates don't know themselves, but this is a small matter when Social Credit is not a serious factor in the election.

It is unfortunate, however, that the Conservative party cannot produce a visible program or even a substantial criticism of the government.

Right Here at Home

WHEN MR. GARDINER IS LOOKING desperately around the world to find markets for Canadian beef, The Financial Post suggests that he might also consider the market at home.

"There is such a market available," says The Post, "which Mr. Gardiner could tap without the risk of a single taxpayer's dollar. It is right here in Canada. It lies in the extra amount of beef Canadian consumers would eat if the prices were lower."

In the past two or three years of abnormally high prices for beef, a lot of people learned to do with less. They bought fewer roasts and steaks and they cut slices thinner. At over a dollar a pound for round steak, or five or six times the prewar level, beef became a luxury on a great many tables.

With our best and natural export market closed (in the United States), there is an opportunity now to win back a much larger domestic market, to build up a new heavy volume of home consumption. But we won't build it up if we insist on unrealistically high floor prices, on a policy which says "sell at a high price or don't sell at all."

That indeed is Mr. Gardiner's present policy. He is determined to keep beef prices up for the benefit of the farmers and the farm vote. He will use the taxpayer's money to subsidize the farmer, making the taxpayer pay twice, at the butcher shop and at the tax collector's office. And thereby he will hold down the consumption of beef in Canada while pushing it into overseas markets, even at a loss.

No one in his senses wishes to see the beef producer damaged. The health of agriculture is one of the cornerstones of Canadian prosperity. There is general agreement that a floor should be set under the price of beef, even at the expense of the taxpayer. But Mr. Gardiner has placed under beef (and pork) a floor almost equal to the highest price level ever known. In a period of generally declining prices he insists that the beef and pork producers shall be chosen from among all Canadians to enjoy record prices—and at the cost of the treasury.

If all this damages the urban people of Canada that is no worry to Mr. Gardiner. He seems to regard himself not as a minister of agriculture in a government responsible to the whole country but as a kind of delegate from the farm industry responsible to it alone.

He may seem to be doing well for the farmers and everybody wishes him to do well. But if he pushes his policy of price maintenance too far it will be far more than anybody else who will suffer when the Canadian taxpayer eventually refuses to pick up the cheque,

Cracking Down on Dangerous Drivers

THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST RECKLESS driving that has been carried on during the past few years has had a noticeable result. Although due to various factors—among them the enormous increase in traffic on the roads—the number of serious accidents has risen, there has risen with it a pronounced trend of public opinion.

The speedy driver, the man who cuts two minutes off the record between Nanaimo and Victoria, the take-a-chance fellow who used to wear fender dents like medals for valor, is no longer the hero he was in an earlier day. The boast of some foolhardy piece of driviness no longer elicits the comment, "Boy, some speed!" It is far more likely to be greeted with contempt, as listeners think of the potential death and damage, and dismissed with the judgment, "What a fool."

The public in general, therefore, shows it has become educated to a new menace of our civilization. The accident creators are a minority, although highly dangerous. And it appears that the process of reducing their numbers to the lowest possible minimum is now to be speeded up.

Where morals, civic pride, human understanding and plain common sense seem to have failed, cold, hard cash may win out. For the prospect is that careless driving will become too expensive to be indulged in. It is already expensive in terms of life and property. But legal penalties, both through imprisonment and fines, will gradually be brought to the point where even momentary lapses while in control of a car will be something no one can afford.

The public demand for these penalties will also be spurred by consideration of expenses. Accident creators are raising insurance costs to a point where the safe and sane driver must protest. But it is no use protesting to the companies, who base their rates on the accident records written by drivers themselves. The protests must be directed at those who swell the death and damage reports, who raise the rates by raising the costs of insurance.

These protests are being reflected in heavier fines for bad driving, in jail sentences, in emphasis on new classifications such as impairment through alcohol, in longer license suspensions and in stiffer court penalties. The public demands both punishment and deterrent for offenders. And while the proposed that dangerous drivers should be forced to display large labels advertising the hazard they create may not gain widespread support, there can be no doubt that the day for the reckless driver is over—by request.

Nothing Up Our Sleeves

THE ANNOUNCED INCREASE OF $10 a ton in the price of Canadian newsprint sold to United States customers has resulted in strong protests from that country.

The economic protests cannot be unexpected. The new price of $126 a ton sets a record high and naturally is not welcomed by publishers to whom newsprint costs constitute half their expenses. They still, however, have the choice of buying or not buying, of seeking alternative markets or new sources of newsprint pulp. These admittedly are not easy to find.

But another aspect of the protests will have struck Canadians. The anguished howls of United States senators imply that this is not merely an economic problem, with producers seeking a greater return for their product, but a deliberate political move by those wily Canadians to rook Uncle Sam.

Overlooking the fact that a sizeable proportion of the Canadian pulp and paper industry in any case is owned by United States capital—a welcome factor in developing this country—the American criticism seeks some ulterior motive. Senate speakers cannot understand how any foreign nation could so treat the United States. The New York Daily Mirror sees the price increase as "a political move to increase American aid to Canada," ignoring the fact that Canada has paid her way without benefit of a dollar in American aid at any time.

This country is engaged in selling its surplus products to other nations at the best price that can be obtained. A softening of demand would, through the inexorable laws of economics, force a reduction of price.

That is the most effective protest possible, not allegations of political malignity or national discrimination. The latter protests only arise from ignorance, a malady which time and Canadian publicity alone can remedy.

LOOSE ENDS

Museum Piece

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

THE RECENT convocation address of Dr. Roderick Haig-Brown at the University of British Columbia was one of the most penetrating and fundamental delivered by a Canadian in recent times. For that reason it will be little noted nor long remembered.

Dr. Haig-Brown is one of our truly important Canadian writers. He also chooses, as a whimsical side-line, to be a local magistrate on Vancouver Island. In his convocation address he delivers what might be called the obiter dicta of his little local court. The great courts of the land seldom say anything half so wise.

Hutchison, Vancouver Island. In his convocation address he delivers what might be called the obiter dicta of his little local court. The great courts of the land seldom say anything half so wise.

HIS THEORY of Canada's future is, to begin with, a wild heresy. He does not fear that Canada will fall to become great and powerful. He fears that it will become too powerful and follow the other great states of the past which, almost by a chemical law of life, collapse at the very moment when they achieve supreme power.

He sees here a young nation of literally unequalled wealth and opportunity. The question is what it will do with its estate. Will it pursue, like Barrie's diseased goldfish, a ravenous and suicidal appetite for wealth? Will it exhaust itself in the search for more power? Or will it refuse to follow the usual course of other nations all through history, and build a sane civilization of its own?

THAT is Dr. Haig-Brown's question. Neither he nor any of us will live to see it answered. At the moment, however, the portents are not favorable. Canada, in this early stage, seems to be reproducing the life-span of the nation species. It is obsessed with a rage for material wealth, though up to now it has shown little interest in international power. That may come later. For the immediate future the question, as the Doctor would admit, is whether Canada can achieve enough power to make itself safe, without bothering any of its neighbors.

Now it will be said at once by leftists that of course Canada is bound to exhaust itself in the pursuit of wealth because that is the iron law of the so-called capitalist system (which died some time ago without a single obituary notice in the newspapers). In fact, the goldfish appetite which the Doctor deprecates has little to do with one theory of economics or another.

THE socialist is just as much obsessed with the accumulation of wealth as the capitalist and only argues about its method of production and distribution. The western world's theory that maximum happiness comes out of a maximum supply of goods (many of them perfectly useless) is common to all the ideologies of these times. Nowhere is it so ferociously held as in communist Russia, a highly capitalistic state, where the worst vices of our western system are imitated and all our virtues extinguished.

THE ambitions of Dr. Haig-Brown in one tiny corner of Canada will illustrate this process. He is eager to preserve a certain natural park from electrical power development, holding that the park is more important than the power. But even this heretic is compelled, if he is to succeed in his argument, to reduce it to purely economic terms that the public may accept. He must prove that the park is more valuable in dollars and cents than power, and that in any case the power can be obtained elsewhere.

In the kind of society he visualizes he would not have to make any such argument. He would have to argue only that there are values in the preservation of nature entirely outweighing any values calculable in money. He might say, for example, that if Canada spent perhaps one-tenth of its present bill for liquor and tobacco it could develop parks, libraries, universities or other values of the same sort throughout the nation.

HE MIGHT say, in short, that we spend our energies, our money and our harasses lives on the wrong things. So we do. Still, the theory that life must be reckoned in money and the state of a nation on the state of its treasury, has become so deeply entrenched since the first days of the Industrial Revolution and the revelations of Adam Smith that Dr. Haig-Brown will whistle into the wind if he raises any such argument in the practical affairs of the system.

He has to raise them, therefore, in a convocation address among people who are supposed to be educated in the hope that some morsel of his thought may be carried into the world by the new crop of graduates.

WILL they listen? One doubts it. Dr. Haig-Brown, simply proposing a little sanity in the system, will be regarded as an old fuddy-duddy from Campbell River, an anachronism, an interesting museum piece, perhaps a counter-revolutionist. He is just the opposite. He is one of the few revolutionists around these days.

He preaches the revolution of sanity in a mad world and naturally, therefore, will be pronounced mad. He preaches the doctrine of conserving our resources, both physical and spiritual, and will be regarded, therefore, as a reactionary. He proposes to keep his feet on the earth and will be called, therefore, a visionary floating in the clouds.

Birthday Present

New York Herald Tribune

The newspapers of Argentina are celebrating the 30th birthday of Eva Peron in highly appropriate style. They are not publishing. The irony, of course, is unintentional, for the shutting down of the press is designed to honor, not rebuke, the wife of dictator Juan Peron. But since virtually all of the free press of Argentina was shut down long ago, it seems perfectly symbolic that a birthday in the ruling family should be marked by a complete cessation of all organs of information and opinion.

Graduating Class

WE HOPE YOU'VE LEARNED YOUR LESSON

Under Our Roof

By JOHN RHODES STURDY

WE WERE sitting in the Broadway Cafe in Big Gulch, Alberta, eating chicken chow mein, and Hamish was gazing out the window along Main Street.

"Just think," he said dreamily to Little Augie and me, "we are right in the middle of the old romantic West. It was only yesterday that this street resounded to the clatter of hoofbeats and the crack of sixshooters as the boys came in from the range to shoot up the town. Right here, in this very spot, there might have been the Silver Dollar saloon, with spangled dancing girls and the clink of glasses on the bar."

"You want stromberry pie?" demanded the man behind the counter. "Tell me something," I enquired. "Did some ancient hen walk through this dish? Is that why you call it chicken chow mein?"

"Stromberry or heppie?" "Podner," said Hamish with a glint in his eye as he looked at the counterman, "when you say that—smile."

"Oh, for heavens sakes, Hamish!" I said. I was in no mood for the romantic old West. We were in Big Gulch, Alberta, because we had been tossed off the Vancouver-bound plane because Little Augie had filled the oxygen tanks with his extra-special home brew and knocked everyone out, including the pilot, and what's more, we were here without any money. It was a long walk across the Rockies to the Coast.

"Look," said Little Augie suddenly. I got excited because I thought he had found a piece of chicken in his chow mein, but instead he was pointing to a poster on the wall.

"Big Rodeo—$300 Cash Prize For Anyone Who Can Ride 'Little Midnight' Bareback For Three Minutes—Lots of Excitement—Fair Grounds, Saturday, 2 p.m."

"That's this afternoon," I said. "Three hundred smackers," Little Augie said. "For staying on a horse three minutes. That's our plane-fare home."

We both looked at Hamish. The little man turned pale, mumbled "I don't think I want any dessert—I'll see you later," and started to leave the counter. But Little Augie and I collared him. "Come on, Billy the Kid," I said. "You wanted the romantic old West. Here's your chance."

There was quite a crowd at the fair grounds when we arrived. We had stopped en route at a hardware store where Little Augie had made a purchase that he kept concealed under his coat and when we reached the stadium the bull-dogging had just finished and a man in a ten-gallon hat was announcing the $300 cash prize for anyone in the audience who could stay on the wild horse "Little Midnight" for two minutes.

"Little Augie took the white-faced Hamish behind a shed and in a couple of minutes they returned. Hamish seemed to be walking peculiarly, as though his trousers were too tight.

"Here's a contestant," Little Augie told the man in the ten-gallon hat. "Little Midnight" was held in a chute and never in my life have I seen such a wicked-looking animal. They hoisted Hamish on the horse's bare back, and the look the little man gave me was pitiful.

"The man in the big hat was just about to order the gates of the chute opened, when Little Augie interrupted. For fifteen minutes Little Augie argued about technicalities, until the master of ceremonies got thoroughly exasperated.

"We can't wait any longer," he snapped. "Open the gates!" "Little Midnight" went flying out into the centre of the ring with Hamish clinging to his back. It was a truly amazing sight. Here was this wild horse leaping and bucking high in the air with its four feet off the ground and still Hamish hung on.

Dust whirled and people cheered. One minute, two minutes, three minutes, five minutes... Hamish was still there. Six minutes, eight, ten minutes... "All right!" the man in the big hat shouted desperately. "That's enough!" He thrust a roll of bills into Little Augie's hand. "There's your dough. Now tell that idiot to dismount! He's ruining the show!"

It was at that moment that "Little Midnight" vaulted a fence and disappeared over the hills, with Hamish still clinging to him.

Ten minutes later the horse returned. Hamish was gone, but his pants were still attached to the animal's back. "Let's go!" shouted Little Augie to me.

We found Hamish about a mile from the fair grounds, in a clump of sagebrush. He was pantless but unhurt.

"I had to stall them before they opened the gates of the chute," explained Little Augie. "I had to give the glue time to set."

Needless to say we did not return to Big Gulch. So far we have managed to evade the posse.

Spring Note

Ottawa Citizen

Mr. James Sinclair's disclosure that the taxation policies of the Liberal government are designed to encourage bachelors to "settle down to a happy married life," is pleasant to hear. That marriage is desirable is a charming official idea, particularly in the springtime. The expression of it in the Commons by Mr. Abbott's parliamentary assistant sheds a new, softer light on the characters of members of the finance department.

Life's Darkest Moment

Safety

New York Times

More than half the children killed or maimed in the city streets, police headquarters estimates, could be saved if the police commands could reduce to the "barest minimum" the number of children who run into the roadway, cross streets elsewhere than at intersections, cross from behind parked vehicles and ride their bicycles carelessly.

In the interests of saving more children's lives, "every member of the police force" has been ordered by headquarters to "participate directly" in the summer accident-prevention drive.

MILES OFF

Progressive Conservative candidate Walter S. Miles has been taken to task by Mr. John B. Barnes, manager of the Victoria Pile Driving Company, for some remarks he apparently made at a recent meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, to the effect that "the contract for the Sidney wharf should have been let to a Yankee firm and the job would have been done by now."

Miles wants the people of Victoria to send him to the Legislature—a Tory candidate who evidently has no faith in the workmanship of good British Columbians—presumably because they have not the Yankee "know-how." How does Miles get that way?

Another thing—and it's an important point—Mr. Miles has preened himself as an authority on immigration. He is reported to have said that "people from other countries, even England, can't absorb our economy in six months."

CIVICUS.

DAYLIGHT TIME

As a group of farm women and mothers we, the members of the Alexandria Women's Institute, strongly protest the institution of daylight saving time, which to us has three serious faults to offset its one advantage.

To mothers of school children, there is the daily struggle to get the children to bed an hour earlier at night, and the equally difficult task of getting them up an hour earlier in the morning. The children usually lose a precious hour of sleep each day during three school months.

On the farm there is an extra hour in the morning when the men cannot get into the fields and that hour in the evening wasted when conditions are just right for harvest. The farmer also employs labor and they, too, waste the evening to themselves.

Large transportation companies do not change their time or their schedule and there is much resulting confusion.

While we sympathize with the city workers in their desire for a longer evening, we feel that the solution lies in their hands. They are the ones who should arrange their days. For those who normally work from nine to five, how very simple to go to work at eight and stop at four. The end result is the same and nobody else is disturbed. It would seem that where normal Standard Time is not satisfactory to all, that the adjustment should be made by those who are not already satisfied.

Now is the time to speak up, mothers; let us hear what you have to say on this really important matter.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"MANY a fella," said the Elevator Man, "has built up quite a reputation as a gambler by taking chances on 'dead certs.' The fact is, a lot of the things we think of as gambles really aren't in the long run. It may be a toss-up as to what happens any particular time, but if you take enough times the result you're looking for is bound to turn up. It's really the old law of averages working, which says that out of a million tosses you should get 500,000 heads and 500,000 tails. But it doesn't specify what order you'll get them in and it might work out like things did for that 'Cheapie By the Dozen' fella, who wanted twelve children evenly divided as to sex and finally got them, but he fathered six consecutive girls first. Mind the step!"

"Now," said the Elevator Man, "you take a case like Little Angus who was given a dollar for his birthday. He was working on the principle that the inevitable will happen if you only wait long enough. His father saw him walking back and forth, back and forth, from the drug store to the grocer's and finally his curiosity couldn't hold out. 'What are you doing, lad?' he asked. 'What!' says Little Angus, 'I change my dollar into silver at the drug store and then back to a bill at the grocer's. Sooner or later somebody's bound to make a mistake, and it's not going to be me.' Lower main!"

"And then," said the Elevator Man, "a lot of supposed gambles aren't really gambles for a different reason. They're sure things in that the gambler can't ever hope to win, but he doesn't know it. He's in the position of the fella who was asked how he'd done at the races. 'Down again,' he muttered. 'Lost $20 today, $30 yesterday, $25 the day before. 'What a fool you are,' says the friend. 'Why don't you give it up?' 'Give it up?' cries the gambler. 'How can I, man? It's my living!'"

WEATHER SYNOPSIS Free Enterprise Seen as Menace

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1952-703.8 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: Little change in the current spell of bright, warm weather is expected for the southern part of the province for the next two days. Afternoon temperatures should reach the 80 mark in the southern interior and range from 70 to 75 over the lower mainland and southern Vancouver Island. A disturbance which dropped anchor about 700 miles west of the Queen Charlotte Islands two days ago has begun to drift slowly eastward. Although considerably weakened it will cause more cloudiness over the northern part of the province during the next two days with small amounts of rain expected along the northern coast.

VICTORIA: Sunny and warm today and Wednesday. Windy light. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Victoria, 48 and 70.

WEST COAST: Sunny today. Variable cloudiness Wednesday. A few fog patches along the northern coastline Wednesday morning. Little change in temperature. Winds light. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Estevan Point, 48 and 56.

VANCOUVER AND GEORGIA STRAIT: Sunny and warm today and Wednesday. Winds light. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Vancouver airport, 50 and 72. Abbotford and Nanaimo, 45 and 75.

Canary, Piano Scoutmaster's Loss in Blaze

A two-family house in Esquimalt was badly damaged by fire Monday afternoon.

Heaviest loser was Scoutmaster Robert Laing, occupant of the basement suite at 1191 Munro, when flame and smoke damage destroyed a grand piano he had just been given, a large record collection and a pet canary.

Other residents of the house—Mrs. E. K. Boyd, Miss Annie Ferguson and Robert Ferguson—lost personal belongings and furniture.

The municipal and naval fire departments confined the fire to the rear of the building and roof. Esquimalt Fire Chief Gilbert Stancombe said cause of the fire had not been determined.

Farms for Jobless Scheme Outlined Before Gyro Club

Establishment of a number of farms where a man could find employment in time of need was suggested by Charles Moore, secretary of the John Howard Society's Victoria branch, who spoke before the Gyro Club Monday.

Mr. Moore said a weak link in the democratic system could be seen in the method of handling unemployment in British Columbia.

"An answer to the problem would be the establishment of a number of farms where a man could live well, eat well and feel he was contributing to something worthwhile," he said.

The "great barrage of fraudulent propaganda" being disseminated about free enterprise was attacked by Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, North Vancouver C.C.F. candidate, at a meeting Monday night in Britannia Branch Hall.

The former M.L.A. singled out B.C. Electric and Board of Trade advertisements championing private enterprise which, she added, are far-fetched.

The advertisements tell you about the great payrolls free enterprise has occasioned. But they don't tell you about the great relief rolls it has caused in the past," she said.

"Free enterprise will in the future destroy millions of jobs and create ghost towns and ghost people. Free enterprise is using the same old hoax on you," Mrs. Steeves said.

Noting the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives take credit for bringing industry to B.C., she declared that "industry comes to this province because of the virgin resources."

"You couldn't keep industry out of B.C. But a C.C.F. government would see that industry pays for the privilege of coming here. Big companies would come here on our terms, not their own," the speaker stated.

"Why, American capital is going these days into Indonesia, Burma and India where revolutions can occur anytime. Surely, B.C. would be a better bet than those countries. They are just trying to frighten you with all that talk," said Mrs. Steeves.

Mrs. May Campbell, city candidate, claimed $250,000 was spent by the government on hospital insurance research between 1937 and 1949. An explanation of how the money was spent is still awaited, she said, because it "certainly never was spent on research."

Colin Cameron, another Victoria candidate and former M.L.A., noting a great deal of the profit made by big business in B.C. goes out of Canada, said his investigations showed for every $1 paid in dividends to Canadian citizens, $2 goes outside the country.

ESQUIMALT COUNCIL POSTPONES REQUESTED ACTION ON POLL TAX

A recommendation from Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association for the abolition of the poll tax in the municipality was tabled for further consideration by Esquimalt Council Monday.

The council decided it will first ask the association for reasons for requesting the abolition of the tax before taking any action on the subject. It was pointed out that in 1951 a total of $775 was collected from the poll tax and $440 from the road tax.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele said the tax was not imposed on taxpayers but only on people who had no property in the municipality.

The council gave permission to the Esquimalt Minor Lacrosse Association to use two municipal lots on Lyall for box lacrosse.

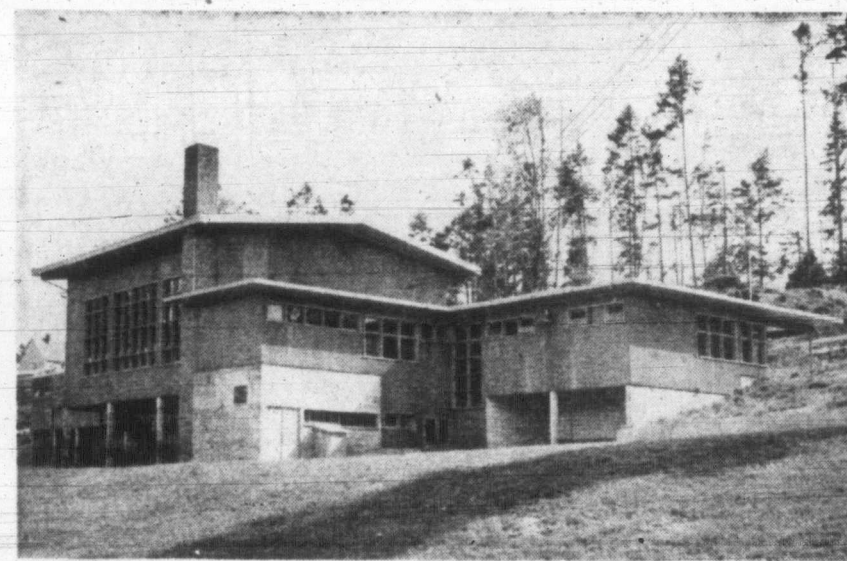

A large framed portrait of Queen Elizabeth was presented to the municipality by Reeve Wurtele.

IT'S AMAZING

.... the progress we've made in B.C.

NEW HIGHWAYS. Total operating and capital expenditures by the Provincial Government this year will amount to $186 million . . . an astonishing example to old-timers of how the country has developed. $30,200,000 . . . a lot more than the total budget 20 years ago . . . will be spent for highways, roads and bridges to help speed B.C.'s development. The picture above shows a section of the new Pat Bay highway at Elk Lake.

NEW SCHOOLS. Fastest growing area in Canada, B.C.'s population has jumped 42% in the past 10 years. This influx of people creates markets to attract new business and provides manpower for expanding industries . . . but it brings problems. One is the matter of new schools. Many, like View Royal, above, have been completed. This year, $10,000,000 will be spent on others. The Department of Health and Welfare has budgeted $31,440,550 to bring British Columbians the finest of welfare and health programs in Canada.

NEW RAILROAD. To further the great development taking place in B.C.'s hinterland the P.G.E. Railway extension to Prince George will be completed this year . . . a $13,000,000 project long awaited, which is expected to give great impetus to the economy of the northland.

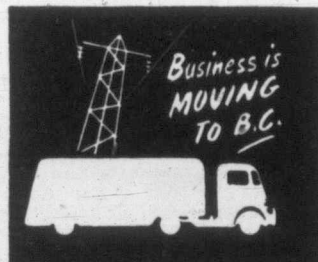

NEW BUSES. A striking example of progress in public service is the transit system in the areas served by the B.C. Electric, with 785 vehicles against 499 in 1945 (in Victoria, 110 modern vehicles now, against 49 in 1945) providing many more miles of service over more routes on modernized systems.

INDUSTRY'S TAXES HELP FINANCE PROGRESS

The contributions of expanding business provide a healthy slice of the money available to government for public expenditure. The B.C. Electric last year set aside for taxes and fees to local, provincial and national governments over $7.5 million, over and above sales taxes and customs duties on materials purchased. Out of every dollar paid to the company for its services, 16c was required by government to be spent on behalf of the public.

B.C. Electric

A PREDICTION THAT PAID OFF—At the war end B.C. Electric embarked on a large-scale campaign to attract industry here to take up the slack when war work ceased. The story of our attractions for industry was published in leading publications throughout Canada, U.S.A. and abroad.

We are glad that we were able to play a part in laying the foundations for today's development.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

There's going to be a baseball game at Athletic Park tonight minus the Garriots, the Melvins, the Martins and the rest that have gone to put Victoria back on the baseball map this year.

But there's going to be a baseball game, nevertheless, whether it meets with the approval or not, of the Skillings, the Warrens and some members of the council who apparently have set out to prove that cork centre in a baseball isn't the hardest thing in the world—and are doing a good job of it, too.

Yes, amateur baseball returns—an ambitious program it is that has been mapped out by association president Wally Thompson.

"Five thousand dollars we need," says Wally rather nervously, "to put this thing across."

A lot of money, one might say if one says it quickly enough in this day of fund-raising drives. But not when it's considered that the cash outlay represents a $10 bill for every kid that will eventually benefit from the program.

Figure it out for yourself—22 minor league teams, plus six senior teams at up to 20 players a team—500 in all. That's what the $5,000 represents—to equip these clubs and players.

"All proceeds will go back into the association," says Thompson, who once cavorted for the Navy nine during the war years and before that called Courtney home.

"But the main thing at the moment is to get the kids playing ball again. We haven't any uniforms—not even caps—but if we even get sweaters and caps for the minor league clubs this year we'll have accomplished something."

To Stress Player Smartness

"Teams will be rated through the season on demerit marks, for dress, punctuality and the like. The senior teams will have the most demerits at the end of the season will lose their franchise and junior teams will fill the vacant positions."

It's a long-range program Thompson has in mind for the kids to move up the ladder.

"But it has to be, if we're going to get anywhere. We must start at the bottom."

"I figure it this way," says Thompson. "We could ask business firms to individually sponsor a club, but in the past that hasn't been satisfactory. Rather, if the money is donated to the association, then the association can disperse the funds as it sees fit. In this way each team will receive equal consideration. And also contributors will see their money doing the most good for the mass rather than for one individual club."

League to Control All Funds

"Certainly we're not against a firm sponsoring a club if it wishes. If we could get enough firms to do this we wouldn't have a problem. But we feel the more practical method is to have the association control all funds, the disbursement of same and equipment."

"We're not looking for any miracles this first year," Wally continued. "As a matter of fact we have been holding off in order that we can get at least two of the teams decently outfitted to play."

"I'm the first to admit that the worst sight in sport is two baseball teams in nondescript garb. That's where the demerit system comes into effect. A team will look like a baseball team—when we get the equipment—or it won't hold a place in the senior league."

"I've never seen the kids so keen," he continued, "and I for one, am going to see that they get a chance to play. I think if the people of Victoria realize the facts they'll get behind us."

It was a minority report of the United Booster Club printed on these pages a few days ago... meanwhile all United equipment has been called in causing the all-stars considerable extra expenses... Incidentally the park rental fee for the Tottenham match is $140 which includes everything and, according to the list, a little bit more... Surely in an international setting of this flavor with soccer the beneficiary, some revision on the estimates could be made...

Apparently Eddie Bowering of the Canadian Basketball Association never heard of a guy named Johnny Clark... Bowering is reported as giving his first western choice for a spot on the Canadian team to Neil Munro of Vancouver Editors... He didn't even mention Clark in the report... Bob Pickel, who was named, was his third choice behind Carl Ridd of Winnipeg who was already on the Tillsonburg roster... Nothing against Munro, mind; he's good, but so is Clark whose light was hidden under a bushel—a bushel of baskets we might add... Not one foul was called in Tottenham's match against a picked Ontario team... Norm Baker may return to the Shamrock line-up Wednesday night against Salmonacas...

Roach, Gibault Capture Sidney Shoot Honors

A good crowd of shooters gathered at Sidney Sunday to gun for prizes in the annual trap shoot of the North Saanich Rod and Gun Club. Wind was the only spoiling feature of the day.

Jack Roach took the prize in the 50-bird singles event at 16 yards with 47x50. Joe Gibault won the 25-bird handicap event in a shoot-off. He beat S. Torko, Nanaimo, in the extra event after they had finished with 23. In the final event Gibault knocked off 24 of 25 birds, Torko breaking 21 clays.

Russ Wilson won the doubles event, posting 22x24. William J. Hawkins Jr. was miss-and-out winner. Tom Garner (Duncan) and Less Ricketts winning the buddy shoot.

The team flying the colors of Salt Spring Island took team shoot prizes. Ted Bailey, Garner, Norm Young, Bill Johnston and Torko posted a top score of 111x125.

Sidney team was just a point behind. This group was made up by Lou Horth, Hawkins, Gibault, Dave Scott and Tom Rothgordt. The Victoria team of Roach, Cee Hannay, Roger Monteith, Wallace McMillan and Slim Udall posted 108x125.

Tom Zaccarelli took B class prizes in the 50-bird singles event, Russ Wilson winning C class.

Roach and Garner, Friday night at the Victoria Gun Club grounds, took on 300 targets in their bid to make the Canadian Olympic team this summer. Roach killed 288 (96%), Garner knocking off one less. They were neck-and-neck until the last 25 birds when Roach knocked off one more target than his colleague. Roach went 94 straight during the heavy shooting.

Local shooting experts believe it will require 290-plus to make the team.

Bosox, Nats Gain on Cleveland

It's high time Carroll (Whitey) Lockman, New York Giants' first baseman, began getting the credit he so richly deserves.

The colorless but dependable towhead who has made the shift from the outfield to first base with little fanfare but with surprising success, has been the most consistent of all the Giants this season.

He leads the club with a .333 mark, second highest in the league, tops the circuit in runs scored and is second in total hits.

Yet Bobby Thomson, Willie Mays, Sal Maglie and Alvin Dark receive most of the acclaim for the Giants' tremendous early season showing.

Thomson proved to be the big run-producer Monday night as the Giants tangled with Brooklyn Dodgers at the Polo Grounds for the first time since that fateful final playoff game. Bobby slammed a home run in his first time at bat and drove in three runs as the Giants whipped their interborough rivals, 4-2, to take over first place from the Dodgers by a half game.

But it was Lockman who set him up. He drew a walk in the first inning and rode in ahead of Thomson's homer. He walked a 400-foot triple in the third and crossed the plate on Thomson's 440-foot fly. Then he led the game in the fifth with a home run into the right field stands, his fifth of the season.

CUBS HOLD THIRD
In other National League games, Chicago Cubs blanked St. Louis Cardinals 3-0, to solidify their hold on third place. Bob Rush pitched a six-hitter to register his sixth victory.

Ralph Kiner slammed a three-run homer, his fourth of the year and his second in two days, to lead Pittsburgh to a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

FILLS WILLIAMS' SHOES
Boston's Red Sox and Washington's Senators continued in their tie for second place, cutting Cleveland's first-place margin in the American League to 2½ games. The Red Sox thrashed New York Yankees, 6-3, for their fourth in a row over the world champions in Fenway Park. Don Lenhardt, trying to fill the shoes of Ted Williams in left field, drove in five Boston runs with a three-run homer and a two-run double. Johnny Sain was the victim.

Mel Parnell yielded nine Yankee hits for his third victory. Sid Hudson pitched and batted the Senators to a 5-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Archie Wilson batted in the other three Washington tallies with a triple and a pair of singles. Billy Pierce picked up a pair of victories as the Chicago White Sox swept two games from the St. Louis Browns, 10-5 and 6-2. The first game was the completion of the suspended game of April 20. The two teams picked up, where they left off in the eighth inning.

TORONTO, May 27 (BUP)—The Maritime Major Hockey League may be cut from six to four teams for the 1952-53 season, George Dudley, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said today.

PROVINCIAL CHAMPIONSHIPS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
Heavy Entry Seen for Prep Meet

With most district prep track and field meets now completed, entries from high schools throughout B.C. are flowing into provincial track meet organizer Laurie Wallace's office for this week's big meet at the Vic High Stadium, Friday and Saturday.

Early indications reveal that the entry list for the 20 scheduled events will be heavier than last year. A new event will be the 120-yard boys' hurdles.

Trophies will be awarded to both the school with the highest aggregate point total and the school district with the highest total. Last year's winners were Vic High and the Greater Victoria School District.

Individual awards will go to the top girl and boy contestants. Winners from last year, Gerry Bemister of Vancouver's King Ed and Ted Whan of Vic High are both expected to defend their titles.

A strong bid for the Birks Trophy, awarded the top school district, is expected to come from the Okanagan. Kelowna High School has 10 contestants entered in 15 of the events. Vernon, the other school entered from that district, has five runners entered in three events, including the boys' relay.

NO-HITTERS GETTING TO BE A HABIT HERE

BRISTOL, Va.-Tenn., May 27 (AP)—Bill Bell, 18-year-old righthander, pitched his second successive no-hitter Monday night for the Bristol Twins of the Class D Appalachian League.

Bell struck out 20 in hurling the Twins to a 4-0 victory over Bluefield's Blue Grays. Last Thursday, he fanned 17 in downing Kingsport, Tenn., down without a hit, 1-0.

It marked the third time since May 13 that a Bristol pitcher has turned in a no-hit performance. "Rocket Ron" Neccia, 18-year-old speedballer, hurled the first, setting a modern baseball record in the process when he struck out 27 as Bristol trimmed Welch, W.Va., 7-0.

Monday's victory was Bristol's 16th in a row.

BUTLER'S ACES BENEFIT

Chinese Students frittered away a ball game Monday night, their infield collapsing as Butler's Aces came from behind for a 4-3 victory.

By winning, Aces moved into a tie with Forest Products for second place in the Senior A Men's Softball League, one-half game behind front-running Pitzer and Nex.

The usually reliable infield of the Students let down John Oliver who pitched an excellent game, as they hesitated too long on two key plays that enabled the Aces to score the two runs that decided the game.

The Students' hurler had faced a total of only 23 batters going into the eighth and might have got by except for the two miscues by his teammates.

When Gus Hilton opened the inning with a double it marked the first time in the game that a runner for Aces had reached second.

Ronnie Benn, hitting for Ches Padgett, skied out to right for the first out, and Hilton held up at second.

Mel Padgett hit back to the mound and Oliver attempted to catch Hilton going to third, but missed. Whitney Turner grounded out and Kilshaw walked to fill the bags.

CLUTCH BLOW
Hal Yardley dropped in a single behind third base to send in two runs and the ball game was all tied up at 2-2.

In the bottom of the eighth the Students scored another singleton that should have been the winning run.

Aces came to bat in the last inning and John Furmston led off with a double to left that Quinton Mar just failed to make a shoe-string catch on.

Willie Benn followed with a grounder to third baseman Bung Derr, and with all the time in the world to throw him out at first, Derr elected to try and catch Furmston going into third. The play misfired and both runners were safe.

WINNING RUN
Ronnie Benn hit a potential double play ball to Don Robinson at short. He hesitated long enough to miss Benn at first after Willie Benn was forced at second. Two follow up singles by Mel Padgett and Turner drove in Benn from first with the winning run.

Pitzer and Nex have an opportunity to increase their lead when they meet Forest Products tonight at Central Park. Game time is 6:30.

Short score follows:
Butler's Aces..... 000 000 000-4
Forest Products..... 000 000 000-3
Pitzer and Nex..... 000 000 000-3
Furmston and Harvey, Turner (8); Oliver and Chow.

Scroggs to Meet Woods

Frank Scroggs and Bob Woods will meet at the Uplands Golf Club next Sunday in the annual open club championship 36-hole final.

Scroggs, defending champion, defeated Gordon Verley, 7 and 5, Monday afternoon in the semi-final contest. On Sunday Woods eked out a 1-up victory over Bob Morrison in the other semi-final match.

Jehosie Puts End To Capilano Jinx

Blanks Caps; Tyees Meet Tribe Tonight

By DENNY BOYD

VANCOUVER — Victoria Tyees took a page from history here Monday night and found out how to beat the Capilano Stadium jinx.

Just as Gabriel blew down the walls of Jericho the Tyees with Jehosie Heard hitting the high horn notes, blew down the walls of Bob Brown's sumptuous Little Mountain stadium with a 7-0 victory over the Caps.

L'il Jehosie, showing no signs of the "so' ahm" of which he complained last week, was in rare form and received sparkling support from his mates in the field.

Heard gave the hard-hitting Caps only seven base knocks but kept them scattered and was helped out of his momentary troubles by some sensational fielding.

It was the Tyees' first win in four starts at Vancouver.

Bud Gouldberg, sporting a 4-0 record, started against Garriott's gunners and fared well enough until the Tyees broke through for six runs in the sixth innings. He was replaced by Bob Snyder, who mopped up and did not give up a run in his relief stint.

GREAT FIELDING
Heard gave up singles to Len Tran and Jim Wert in the second but Granny Gladstone caught Tran at third with a sensational throw from right field to nail the runner by three feet. After Bob Durette popped out, Jesse Williams trickled a roller down the first base line that Don Pries booted.

Wert tried to score on the play but was thrown out on another great throw, this one from Lu Branhman to Milt Martin. In the bottom of the fourth John Ritchey spanked a single to right but Gladstone picked him off first when he took too wide a turn at the initial sac.

Heard sliced a double to centre field in the fifth to score Martin, who had singled, and it looked like that run might be the ball game.

BIG INNING
But the Tyees came with what that big inning, sending 11 batters to the plate in the sixth and scoring six runs on six hits, one error and three walks before Snyder came in to throw water on the flames.

Heard had a single in the rally, while Garriott and Gladstone had payoff doubles.

Heard, who can make even Vancouver fans laugh with his antics, was in serious trouble in the seventh when it seemed he might have to leave the game.

HEARD SPIKED
Covering first while Pries fielded a slow roller. Heard sprawled all over the bag and was accidentally spiked by Snyder.

After Heard hopped around on the limb for several worrisome moments, he returned to the battle none the worse for wear. A crowd of 3,500 saw the game. The Tyees' sixth straight victory. Tyees move to Spokane tonight for a three-game series with the second-place Indians.

CHINOOKS SPLIT PAIR

Senior Ball Opens Tonight

First action on the local Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League club will be at Athletic Park tonight at 6:30.

At Chemainus Sunday, Victoria Chinooks got their first taste of action and split a double-header exhibition series with Chemainus Red Sox. Chinooks won 11-5 in the seven-inning first game, lost to Sox 11-8 in the evening game.

Heaviest Chinook hitter was Doug Peden. His record: a homer, a double and a single. Vern Ferguson of Chemainus had four hits. In the opener Wright drove in five runs.

CONNOLLY ADVANCES
SURREY, Eng., May 27 (AP)—Maureen Connolly, 17-year-old United States women's tennis champion, breezed through her first match on English grass courts Monday. She defeated Jean Petchell, 19-year-old Nottingham salesgirl, 6-0, 6-1, in the first round of the Surrey championships.

"We are well on our way in the drive to get $5,000. At the present time the donations from the public total about $1,300," an official of the senior league stated Monday night.

"We really need that money to keep baseball going in Victoria. A good portion of it will go toward outfitting and equipping the 500 youngsters in the minor leagues so we will be assured of material from those ranks for the senior leagues of the future," he said.

Chinooks came close to winning both tussles Sunday. They

Roy Stranix Lifts Navy Golf Crown

Lieut. Comdr. (S.B.) Roy Stranix is the new champion of the Royal Canadian Naval Golf Association.

He won the laurels Sunday by defeating C.P.O. Bill Jamieson, 3 and 2, in the 36-hole final of the seventh annual championship flight.

C.P.O. Pumfrey won the first flight, P.O.C. Mann the second, Lieut. Comdr. (S) Collins the third, Cpl. Crabbe the fourth and C.P.O. Noon the fifth flight.

Prize winners in the qualifying round played recently were: C.P.O. Jamieson, low gross (82); C.P.O. Ebbeling, low net (64); Lieut. (S) Heatley, kicker's handicap (70); hidden holes, Lieut. Keen, first nine, and Surg. Lieut. Gray, second nine.

To Decide Status Tonight

CLEVELAND, O., May 27 (UP)—Stockholders of the Cleveland Barons will meet tonight to decide whether the American League hockey team should join the big-time National League.

Indian Hemp Declared Fit for Epsom Derby

EPSOM, Surrey, England, May 27 (CP)—Indian Hemp, Canada's longest hope for the richest of all Epsom Derbys, breezed five furlongs over this horseshoe-shaped course today, and was declared fit and ready for Wednesday's big race.

As the chestnut colt streaked down world-famous Tattenham Corner and into Epsom's home stretch, a three-man Canadian contingent cast a critical eye on this final workout.

Later, Charley Conacher, former Canadian hockey star, said he and the other Canadian onlookers were "very well pleased" with Indian Hemp's performance.

Also watching the workout at this 220-year-old track were owner Max Bell of Calgary (1,799), and partner Wilder Ripley.

The three Canadians flew from Canada to see the Derby and will return by air Thursday night.

L'I'L ARTHUR TOO TOUGH FOR ROUGH-HOUSE PADDY

BROOKLYN, May 27 (CP)—Arthur King, the Toronto boxer who claims the British Empire lightweight championship, scored the most important victory in his seven years in the ring Monday night when he defeated the favored Paddy De Marco in a 10-round rough-house brawl.

A crowd estimated at 1,100 at Eastern Parkway Arena, plus more watching on television, saw Arthur take a unanimous decision from the Brooklyn better, who was a 3-1 favorite.

King knocked Paddy down for the first time in 70 professional bouts, and ended a string of 18 bouts in which De Marco has been undefeated. King weighed 139½, De Marco 139.

King twice floored De Marco with rights to the chin for counts of eight in the fourth round.

The Toronto fighter showed no fear of rough, tough De Marco, who had won a close decision over King at Philadelphia June 25, 1951.

King picked up De Marco and threw him to the floor in the eighth.

Stranahan in Bid for Third Amateur Crown

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 27 (UP)—Frank Stranahan, the muscular millionaire from Toledo, O., begins his quest for his third British Amateur golf championship today against Britain's Joe E. Gent in a second-round match.

Sixteen other United States stars were slated to compete today, 11 of them in second round matches and five in third round contests. Six other Yanks, who have advanced as far as the third round, will be idle until Wednesday.

Although defending champion Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N.C., and U.S. champion Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., both compete today in the third round, the debut of the brilliant, controversial Stranahan is expected to draw the greatest attention from the gallery.

The 29-year-old blond heir to a spark plug fortune won the British Amateur title in 1948 and 1950, and also has been involved in several explosive incidents on British links.

Perhaps the most important duel today will be the third-round battle between England's Alex Kyle, who is regarded as one of the few natives capable of keeping the title at home for the second time in the last six years, and veteran Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N.Y.

It's the second rugged test in a row for curly-haired Strafaci.

Casey Reveals Next Steps in Drainage Plan

Saanich drainage program for 1952, second year of a five-year project, will improve conditions in the Swan Lake and Blenkinsop areas, Reeve Joseph W. Casey said today.

It will cost about $26,000, and will be started in July, during low water.

Major portion of the job will be to widen, deepen and lower the stream flowing from Swan Lake to meet Colquitz Creek at Marigold.

Its bed is practically flat, Reeve Casey said, and there is very little fall.

Also planned is the removal of rock constrictions in the stream flowing into Swan Lake from Blenkinsop, near the C.N.R. grade.

First portion of the drainage program, finished last fall, included rock removal and widening of Colquitz Creek downstream from Marigold, and construction of a new bridge over the creek on Interurban Road.

Artists Entertain Hospital Patients

Songs and comedy skits featured a variety concert held at the Mental Home recently. The concert was sponsored by the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion.

Among the artists who took part were Ian Duncan, Clifford Moore, Ray and Marlene Hunt, Tom Obee, Stan James, Bill Holmes, Bill Anderson, Tommy Crabbe and Cecil Heaton. Stan James was master of ceremonies.

CITY TORY CANDIDATES JOIN FORCES

Review Platform For Local Voters

"Firm commitments" of the Progressive Conservative party were outlined by the three Victoria city candidates at a meeting in Victoria West Community Hall Thursday evening.

The speakers, Mrs. L. M. Harvey, A. De B. McPhillips and Walter S. Miles spent little time on their opponents but covered a wide section of the P.C. platform.

Mrs. Harvey pledged a review of the cost of education and construction, with a view to spreading the cost more equitably. "There are too many frills, not enough practical teaching in B.C. education," she said. "Children are being taught to psychoanalyze their parents. Their basic education is being neglected."

BRIDGE NEEDED

Mr. McPhillips referred to the need for a wide, fixed bridge to replace the present "ant Ellice span. "If pressed for, a proper bridge can be accomplished," he said. "It is needed, not only for city traffic, but for heavy, high-speed military traffic. I will press for support of a proper bridge from both the provincial and federal governments."

He underlined the P.C. pledge to give grants to municipalities in lieu of taxes on government property and buildings.

Mr. Miles asked his listeners to look to the future, to plan now for 20 and 30 years of progress. "We haven't time to criticize our opponents," he stated. "We have so much to do."

He believed it was a "shame" that the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway has been allowed to get into its "present condition," and warned that if passenger service were dropped on the railway, heavier bus and truck licenses would have to be charged to maintain the highway.

ISLAND DIGEST

NANAIMO, May 27.—Death of Wayne S. Bates, 17, from fatal injuries received May 22 in Eureka Sawmill, was accidental, according to a coroner's jury.

He was struck by a rolling log while working on the log deck of the mill.

NANAIMO, May 27.—A compromise is expected between protesting Indians of the Nanaimo reserve and the E. & N. Railway following what C.P.R. officials admitted was "unauthorized" work on a spur through the reservation.

Chief Edision White claimed that the reserve is the last bit of land held by Indians in North America, and that surveys taken without notification "make us feel insecure."

LADYSMITH, May 27.—Residents here are still chuckling over this one, overheard a few days ago in a restaurant.

"Are we still on Vancouver Island, Mummy?" asked a little girl in a family of tourists from Nova Scotia.

"Yes, dearie," her mother replied with a beam. "It's bigger than we thought, isn't it?"

COURTENAY, May 27.—Upper Island Cerebral Palsy Association plans establishment of a clinic here for cerebral palsy victims, and will send delegates to a meeting of the provincial organization in Vancouver May 30 to June 1.

DUNCAN, May 27.—A verdict of accidental death by drowning was returned Monday by a coroner's jury in the case of William Semeyn, 65, who disappeared Saturday night from a small boat while crossing Maple Bay.

Semeyn, a Victoria resident, was accompanied by Charles Corbett, owner of the boat in which the men were crossing the bay to Corbett's summer home. Semeyn's body was recovered Sunday.

CHEMAMINUS, May 27.—MacMillan & Bloedel, Chemainus Division, mill here will be open to the public Thursday and Friday. Conducted tours will show the conversion of logs into finished lumber and other mill products, and the function of the many new machines now in use in mills.

DUNCAN, May 27.—A Red Cross blood clinic continued today and will conclude this evening.

On Monday 300 donations were made and sponsors, Duncan Kinsmen Club, hope to reach a total of 650.

The clinic will visit Lake Cowichan Wednesday and Youbou Thursday.

U.S. Supreme Court Strikes Blow Against Film Censors on 'Miracle'

WASHINGTON, May 27 (UPI).—Movie makers rejoiced today over a Supreme Court decision which they said was a long step toward striking "the shackles of censorship from the screen."

The court Monday reversed a New York State court decision upholding censorship of the film "The Miracle" as "sacrilegious." Justice Tom C. Clark, speaking for the court, held that films, like newspapers, are protected by the "free speech" guarantee in the constitution and may not be banned for religious reasons.

In the unanimous opinion, Clark said that in applying the New York law, "the censor is set adrift upon a boundless sea amid a myriad of conflicting currents of religious views, with no charts but those provided by the most vocal and powerful orthodoxes."

The decision overruled a 1915 Supreme Court finding in an Ohio case that movies are merely a form of entertainment and therefore not entitled to constitutional protection. Clark said advances in film techniques have made today's motion picture industry quite different from that of 1915.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

I like getting letters. Especially nice, polite letters. Even when they give me the polite brush-off. One of the politest I ever received came the other day from the British Columbia Telephone Company, signed by L. A. Huxtable, the district sales manager.

Mr. Huxtable was 101 well-chosen words sorry that he couldn't do anything about my application for telephone service.

I was overjoyed to hear from Mr. Huxtable, this being my first communication from anyone in the telephone company since filing an application. But of course, that was only six months ago, and I know they must be awfully busy.

I was just a little hurt, though, by words 102 to 122, inclusive.

These were: "It will not be necessary for you to call at our office until we advise you that telephone service is available."

You'd almost think Mr. Huxtable doesn't want me around. Perhaps I'm not the type he considers an asset to the office. No doubt he is afraid I will come and bring my lunch, and leave orange peels on the floor.

Well, do not worry, Mr. Huxtable. I won't call on you. I won't even phone you. How can I? I haven't a phone.

Sometimes the complete frankness of the Federal Government is surprising, to say the least.

In the official list of art-work reproduced by the National Gallery in Canada is a section headed: "Paintings looted from Holland (1948)."

Let's see, now. There's space on the north wall of the living room that needs filling. Think you boys at Ottawa might loot me a nice Rembrandt?

Names continue to fascinate me. At the United Commercial Travellers' convention Monday I was pleased to shake hands with Mike Rabbit.

Mike is positively the largest Rabbit I've ever met, and the only one of the talking, or non-talking, variety.

What interests me most about his name is the kidding he must have taken during his school days.

No doubt he grew large and strong in sheer self-defense.

Urgent call on the police radio Monday: "Come in, Car One. Come in, Car One. Headquarters calling. Come in, Car One."

Several minutes of this, then Car One answered. "Car One," said headquarters, "There's a loose wrench on your roof near your spotlight."

That is all.

The husband of a lady I know recently received a promotion which put him in a very important executive position.

His new position didn't mean much in the way of net income increase, but he acquired lots more responsibility, several added jobs, and one of the largest desks I've ever seen.

And he seemed completely happy.

His wife has a theory about this. She quotes a statement by Dorothy Dean, an important lady executive in the United States:

"I don't see why they don't invent desks for kitchens. With a sink under the blotter pad. It would advance the science of home economics, and maybe executive husbands wouldn't break so many dishes doing their homework."

'DON'T PLAY WITH CAR DOORS'

So says three-year-old Douglas Butterfield of 1637 Burton as he recovers in Jubilee Hospital from injuries suffered Monday afternoon when he fell out the door of his father's moving car after playing with handle. His head swathed in bandages, Douglas wears a serious expression as he warns other children of the danger of playing with car door handles when the vehicle is in motion. Youngster received head cuts when he tumbled onto roadway from moving car at Hillside and Blackwood. (Times Photo by Strickland.)

Port's Shipping Gain 30 Per Cent for May

Deep sea shipping activity in Port of Victoria during May will be more than 30 per cent up over the same month a year ago, according to preliminary compilation of figures supplied by Capt. G. R. Newell, harbor and shipping master.

By the end of the month, at least 30 deep sea ships, of British, United States, Swedish, Danish, Italian, German and Panamanian registry will have docked at Ogden Point, most of them to take B.C. lumber to U.K., Europe and Australia.

In May, 1951, 20 ships made port here, and in 1950 the number was 19.

Of this month's 30 ships, 24 are lumber carriers whose combined cargoes total almost 20,000,000 feet. The other six are general cargo ships, carrying U.K. products to Canada.

The largest single lift was by Ms. Scottish Trader, which took well over 2,000,000 feet.

In port today are St. Avondean, Sea Champion and Christer Salen.

Expected by the end of the week are: Queen Anne, Cape Nelson, Michael D. Larrinaga, Lakonia, Enterprise, Pacific Alliance and Orient City.

Silence Held Safer Than Scandal Story

MEETINGS TONIGHT (All Meetings Public)

8 p.m.—All Saanich candidates will speak at Vancouver Island Dairyman's Association-sponsored open meeting at Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall.

8 p.m.—Esquimalt Liberal candidate Geoffrey Edgewood and Gerry Hoffman at Langford Community Hall.

8 p.m.—Arthur Ash, Saanich Liberal candidate; George Shepherd and J. L. Hobbs at St. Aidan's Hall.

8 p.m.—Oak Bay C.C.F. candidate Fred Revis at a house meeting at 2238 Bowker Ave.

Victoria Independent candidate William A. Scott said today he has been forced to abandon plans to reveal at a public meeting "all the details" of the Clyde Gillies' swindle case.

"I would leave myself open to criminal libel so I have decided against divulging the whole legal scandal," said Mr. Scott.

The candidate said he can't reveal the details because Chief John Blackstock has refused to surrender certain of his documents involved in the case.

"Without these documents to confirm what I state, I'd be leaving myself open to criminal libel," said Mr. Scott.

"I said, though, if he is elected he won't crusade to have the whole 'scandal' brought before the public."

"I'll have full protection in the House," he said.

Labour-Progressive party workers were distributing pamphlets outlining their election manifesto outside the C.C.F. meeting at Britannia Hall Monday night.

Pamphlets were handed to persons as they approached the meeting place. But C.C.F. members were quick to hand out their own pamphlets as people entered the hall, and say: "Those other pamphlets have nothing to do with us."

Liberal campaign headquarters officials at Vernon for a long time couldn't figure out why passers-by glanced up at their posters and then walked away chuckling.

One day a photographer arrived to take a picture and officials felt an investigation was in order.

On examining the front of the store they had rented in Kalamita Hotel, they found the reason for the laughter. Over candidate Charles Morrow's picture, in large letters, was the name of the building's last tenant, "The Nut House."

Civil Servants Vote 'Yes' to Short Week

Four-Month Test Basis Given Okay

Provincial civil servants in Victoria Monday night voted to accept the government's offer of a five-day 36½-hour week for office workers and five-day 44-hour week for outside workers on a four-month test basis.

By secret ballot the workers voted 632 to 400 to accept the offer.

The meeting, held in the Club Sirocco, was called to consider the hours of work issue only. The government offer of 5 per cent wage boost and incorporation of the cost-of-living bonus into the wage structure had been accepted earlier.

The entire provincial vote is expected to be known this week. Locals of the B.C. Government Employees' Association are holding meetings all over the province during the week. Nanaimo and Vancouver meet tonight.

If the majority of the province's 10,000 civil servants vote to accept the offer, the new work week will start June 1.

2,000 NAMES

MANY SIGN PETITION BY FIREMEN

City firemen obtained 2,000 signatures Monday in the first day of circulation of a petition for a referendum on closure of any Victoria firehalls.

With only four of 115 districts to be covered, a spokesman for the firemen's union said today they are confident the required number of signatures will be obtained to force the vote.

Each signature is being checked with the voters' list so as to number property owners separately. Of the 2,000, 58 per cent are owners.

"We estimate we will need from 8,000 to 10,000 signatures to get the required number of property owners."

At one house a fireman got two signatures and gave a piece of his leg in return. The family dog took a nip at him.

CATTLE-RAIDING DOGS SHOT BY IRATE SAANICH FARMERS

Two dogs were shot as they were about to attack a herd of dairy cattle on the Dean Road farm of W. Taylor Monday. It was learned today from Constable W. R. Dieroff, Central Saanich police.

The shooting follows a drive by Central Saanich police to exterminate marauding dogs which in the past few days have caused about $1,000 damage in the eastern section of the district. One farmer reportedly lost three registered Holstein heifers due to dogs.

Police Chief V. J. Lawley warned Monday that farmers who found dogs molesting cattle would shoot to kill.

Other farmers reported seeing several other dogs on the prowl last night but the animals were wary enough to keep out of range.

$30,000 FIRE AT MILL BAY

Kilmalu Guest House Completely Guttled By Blaze of Unknown Origin; None Hurt

A $30,000 fire that started around 9.30 a.m. today completely destroyed the former Kilmalu Guest House off the Island Highway near Mill Bay.

The big, beautiful mansion was located on the waterfront on a road leading from the Island Highway, 2½ miles north of Mill Bay.

R.C.M.P. report that no one was hurt in the blaze. Cause was not immediately known. It spread rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. George Edgar McLean, owners, closed down the place as a guest house about two years ago owing to Mr. McLean's ill-health. They had used it since as a dwelling.

Loss was only partially covered by insurance.

R.C.M.P. said nothing was saved.

Mrs. McLean was in Duncan and Mr. McLean in the garden when the fire broke out.

Mr. McLean saw smoke coming from the frame building, with shingle sidings, but was unable to get in and save anything.

The whole structure was burned to the ground in about 90 minutes.

The B.C. Forest Service sent truck to the scene but they were powerless to stop the fire.

Church Worker's Funeral Services In Cathedral

Funeral services for Miss Maud King, 74, who died Saturday at Royal Jubilee Hospital, will be held Wednesday at 11 a.m. at Christ Church Cathedral, and will be followed by cremation.

Archbishop Harold Sexton will conduct the Cathedral service.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. N. King, she was born in Prescott, Ont., and had made her home in Victoria for the last 25 years.

She was an active member of the Cathedral congregation, keenly interested in spiritual healing and was founder of the bookstall in the Cathedral porch that attracted considerable attention.

She is survived by two aunts, Mrs. A. W. McVittie and Mrs. John Hutchison, both of Victoria.

Police Chief John Blackstock said that police work here has "doubled" in the past year.

Commissioners agreed that police officers of the city department should receive "the time off that they put in" attending as witnesses at Assize or County Court hearings.

A letter will be forwarded to the Attorney-General's department in the matter.

An increase in the number of business premises left unlocked by their owners and attended by city police has risen sharply in the past few months, commissioners were told.

Commissioner Brent Murdoch told the meeting that "this should be brought to the attention of the business men and they should realize what the police force is doing for their protection."

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Victorians will be able to set their watches Wednesday at 11.30 a.m. by a short blast on nine of the area's 12 air raid sirens.

Civil defense authorities have scheduled a test of electrical connections for that time. The nine sirens to be turned over will run only for five seconds and will emit a steady blast.

The indomitable spirit of the Britisher was lauded by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Speaker in the last Legislature, in an address Monday night to a dinner meeting of the Men's Club of St. Andrew's Church.

Mrs. Hodges gave the members, who were accompanied by their wives, her impressions of England during a recent visit.

Her talk, interspersed with humorous anecdotes, dealt with conditions as she found them.

A meeting of the Workmen's Compensation Amputees will be held Thursday at 5 p.m. in the reading room of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion, 625 Courtney Street, it was announced today.

A large display of roses will be on exhibition at the Victoria Horticultural Society summer show in the Crystal Garden, June 20 and 21, it was learned today from J. N. Clarke, secretary.

Mr. Clarke said society officials are working to make the event "a miniature rose festival," featuring new and old varieties of all colors and shades. These will include climbing, decorative and polyantha type roses, he said.

Other flowers exhibited will include begonias, sweet peas, delphiniums, poppies and lilies. There will also be a fruit and vegetable display.

Capt. G. R. Newell, Victoria shipping and harbor master, was re-elected chairman of the managing committee of Connaught Seamen's Institute at the annual meeting recently.

During 1951, 4,000 seamen from 120 deep-sea vessels used the facilities of the institute, an increase of 400 over 1950. All visiting vessels were supplied with books and magazines, and sick seamen were visited in hospital and provided with cigarettes and reading matter.

Quaker relief to Korea and Europe continues.

Ten cartons of clothing, footwear and bedding were shipped to Korea recently from the Friends' Meeting House, 1831 Fern Street.

A 1,045-pound consignment of clothing was sent to refugee camps in Europe.

A 58-year-old man went to jail for 30 days today after he was convicted in police court of an infraction of the Unemployment Insurance Act.

L. Chow Gun, 38 Jackson, was also ordered by Magistrate H. C. Hall to repay $233.50 to the commission.

Concern that immigrants to this country are being granted citizenship without knowing enough about the land was expressed Monday night at a meeting of the Greater Victoria Canadian Citizenship Council.

Those taking part in the discussion were doubtful that enough aid was being given persons wishing to apply for citizenship so that they would fully understand the general operation of government and the function of Canadian law, as well as the responsibilities and privileges of citizenship.

The council decided to write the Department of Citizenship, Ottawa, on this question and also to Dr. William G. Black, Vancouver, representative of the department.

It is surmised the 600 acres of waterfront land, sold by A. Y. Johnstone, logging operator, to the National Defense Department, will be used as a base for anti-submarine training operations.

The Navy is building an anti-submarine fleet of fast destroyer escorts here and in eastern Canada. This may be their training base.

"We are still awaiting a directive from Ottawa," a naval officer told The Times today.

It has been reported from Ottawa the 600 acres purchased by the government will be used "in connection with anti-submarine training exercises." But there are no details as to the plans for a base, or a hint of what building may be erected.

It is considered safe to assume a wharf will be constructed, however. At present the Navy depends upon two mooring buoys in Nanoose Bay, which has been for years a base for working-up exercises.

Nanoose Bay has a beautiful natural setting and is sheltered from prevailing weather. The Island Highway runs along its eastern shore. The Esquimalt-Nanaimo railway line has a siding on the same side. The naval property is across the bay, on a promontory which runs roughly north and south, heavily wooded and abounding in game.

Naval recreation parties have landed there for many years.

SHOPPING GUIDE

To Burn or Not to Burn—That Is the Problem

By PENNY SAVER

Now they tell me! Over the holiday week end I got myself a dilly of a burn. In fact I am now known as "Pinky," not "Penny."

But from all sides I hear, "You didn't have to get a burn." I know I didn't, but what can you do?

I asked this question of one of my friends in the cosmetic department of a local store.

She assured me that this "there's no tomorrow" attitude towards getting a tan can be cause for regret when tomorrow comes.

It's bad enough to have the office wag slap you soundly on your sunburn. And aside from the fact that the burn could have been avoided is the chance you take of doing serious damage to your complexion.

"Keep it up, chum," I said. "You'll have me in tears in a moment."

The suggestion I got from my friend will not help me this time but should be just the thing for you if you haven't already got a burn.

Your first concern should be toward protecting your skin; second, toward achieving a fine even tan.

A leading cosmetic has introduced a suntan oil that will protect you if you tan too easily, or will help you get a deep tan. This smooth, protective oil, which sells for $1.50, will protect your skin against painful burn, yet not keep you from attaining a rich golden tan. Also contains an insect repellent in case the mosquitoes join your party!

Perhaps you dislike oils and prefer a lighter type of suntan protective liquid. Liquid sunshine is ideal for you! A golden liquid that encourages a rich tan, yet screens the sunning harmful rays from your skin. It is fragrant, non-greasy, and helps keep your skin soft and smooth while it is also a very effective insect repellent.

There's a delicately fragrant preparation called sun and windproof cream, that every member of your family will enjoy. Non-greasy and invisible on the skin, it can be used as a make-up base for a dry complexion, as well as on all exposed areas. Really made for summer fun, you'll find sun and windproof cream, in a handy tube, ideal to keep in the glove compartment of your car.

Not forgotten is the "late starter" who hasn't had time to get a tan, or the girl who loves the sun but has to hide under the beach umbrella because of sensitive skin. It's possible through sun-tint to look tanned even though you aren't.

A clear tinted liquid, this preparation gives your skin a beautiful bronze look with a natural lustrous finish. It'll help, too, if your tan is uneven, or you want tanned legs during the "bare foot look" season. Use it to hide marks left by bathing suit straps when you wear your décolleté evening gown, too!

Liquid sunshine sells for $1 and $1.50; sun tint for $1.50; and sun and windproof cream for $1.25.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Chocolate Nut Sundae Pie

- 2 cups milk
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- 4 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 baked 9-inch pastry or crumb shell

Chocolate Nut Topping

- 1 square unsweetened chocolate
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 3 tablespoons cream
- ½ cup California walnuts.

Scald milk, blend sugar, cornstarch and salt, and stir into hot milk. Cook and stir until thickened, then place over boiling water and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Separate eggs and beat yolks lightly. Stir a little of hot mixture into yolks, then combine with remaining hot mixture and cook three minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and blend in vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into hot filling. Cool to lukewarm and turn into pie shell. Just before serving, spread with chocolate nut topping.

Chocolate Nut Topping: Melt chocolate and butter together. Stir in sugar and cream. Spread carefully over filling and sprinkle with chopped walnuts. Serves six to eight.

To Be Married in Vancouver

The engagement is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Samu Wright, Vancouver, of their elder daughter, Audrey, 1-Peter Floyd Evans, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Evans, Roslyn Road. The wedding will take place at Chown United Church, Vancouver, on July 3, with Rev. Packham officiating. Among the many Victorians planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Percy Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stubbs. Miss Wright was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Evans over the holiday week-end and Mrs. Evans entertained Saturday afternoon during the tea hour in her honor.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Girdle Can Be Great Help To Tired Tummy Muscles

The old question of whether to wear a girdle keeps popping up. If the average woman had fine muscular tones she would be much better off using her muscles to hold her tummy in. However, this is not the case. The average middle-aged woman has dropped special exercise long ago. If she ever took it, and after a child or two, or even if she has not had children finds her abdominal muscles lax.

The very effort of holding the abdomen in is a fine exercise but the muscles of many women are so weak that this is impossible for any length of time. If these muscles sag, our internal organs do likewise. This can lead to a great deal of trouble. Constipation, fatigue or backache may result.

Therefore the best plan for the average woman to follow is to try to remember to pull her abdomen in, whether she is wearing a girdle or not, take special exercises in order to gradually build up the abdominal muscles and wear a support. The girdle should be removed while exercising and for some periods during the day when a conscious effort is made to make the abdominal muscles do the work they should do.

Summer weather calls for a different type girdle for greatest comfort. Today it is entirely possible to find lightweight and porous garments which are also restraining. Remember, also, that in hot weather your girdles and bras shape quickly to your figure.

Speaks on Posture

LONDON (CP)—Most women don't know how to carry themselves properly, says Charles Neil, chief instructor at a London centre for physical and mental re-education.

Some don't even know the right way to push a baby carriage, says Neil. Many mothers push the pram with the head back and chest thrown forward.

"All wrong," says 36-year-old Neil. "Carry the head level and push with the whole body."

Another tip: If you let your body sag while carrying your shopping bag, you're just making things harder for yourself. It's less tiring to walk erect, spreading the strain over the body.

And never pick things up without bending the knees just to save your stockings. The knees are bent much more when you sit down.

Home Dressmaker Saves Money; Helps Keep Cost of Living Down in Canada

(Following is another in a series of stories on how leading Canadian women are meeting the high cost of living.)

Sew your own clothes and save money, says Mrs. R. G. Purcell of Fort William, Ont.

Mrs. Purcell is president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario, an organization composed of 47,500 women in farming, communities throughout the province.

She told the Canadian Press that any woman can help beat the high cost of living by doing her own sewing. It also helps if she plans her wardrobe around a basic color.

"The idea of the basic dress which can be changed in appearance by the addition of a scarf, necklace or other trimming, is an old one—but ever new," said Mrs. Purcell.

Spring, said Mrs. Purcell, always gives her "a yen" to sew. "Certainly a young mother with a growing family needs a sewing machine—and needs to use it."

"There is such a choice of material today, simplified patterns with all instructions clearly given, or classes in sewing in all schools, that there is no excuse for any mother not knowing how to sew for her children."

RHUBARB, RHUBARB

The head of the Ontario women's institutes said that if housewives want to save they should buy in larger quantities and plan meals ahead. This is one way to get more value for the food dollar.

"Wherever possible I buy in larger quantities—potatoes, are much cheaper by the bag. Canned milk or other canned foods commonly used, is cheaper by the case," said Mrs. Purcell.

In the Purcell garden are raspberry bushes. Every spring there's rhubarb.

Mrs. Purcell found "after the first taste for rhubarb has gone there always seems to be a surplus not used." She preserved some, uncooked, in cold water for winter use. Some went into conserve and rhubarb pickle.

But there still was rhubarb in the garden.

Last year Mrs. Purcell solved her problem.

"I took equal quantities of raspberry and rhubarb, cooked it, strained it through a jelly bag and made a clear jelly in the usual way."

She said this new kind of jelly has more juice than usual. And the sweetness of the raspberry is fully balanced by the tang of the rhubarb.

"Say, Joan, that's real milk!"

"Quite a difference between that and powdered skim milk."

"Sure is! Borden's Klim is so rich and creamy because it's pasteurized whole milk in powder form—has the cream right in it."

"And I find it's wonderful for cooking. Keeps fresh for weeks in the tin after it's opened, too."

"Does a tin go very far?"

"Oh, yes! A pound makes over three quarts of nourishing whole milk. Easy, to prepare, too—just add to water and heat, or place in a sealer and shake."

Get Borden's Klim at your grocer's in 1, 2½ or 5 lb. tins.

A tossed green salad with tart fresh grapefruit sections and slices of mellow rich Calavo avocado is a queen among salads. Use any proportions you like and toss the salad just before serving. A wine vinegar, oil, salt and freshly ground pepper dressing is just right with this.

Plump seedless raisins in hot oatmeal add a delightful accent. Add one-half cup raisins to the boiling salted water before stirring in the quick cooking oats. Remember the proportions for good oatmeal are twice as much water as oats.

Missionaries Honored at Tea Given by W.M.S. Presbyterian

Members of Victoria Presbyterian Society of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church met recently at the tea hour at the home of Mrs. E. McGinnes, Robertson Street, to honor several of their missionaries, at present in Victoria.

The president, Mrs. W. J. McIntyre, welcomed the group and as selected members paid tribute to their work, corsage bouquets were presented to the honored guests.

Miss A. Fee, recently returned from China, spoke warmly of the Chinese people and expressed regret at being unable to continue her work there. Miss Wilma Thomas, on furlough from Japan, told of the Japanese women and their kinship with W.M.S. women of Canada.

Miss Mary Thompson, retired after 40 years home mission service, spoke of her present connection with Naramata School, and Mrs. A. L. McLean and Miss Margaret Laurie described work in the Chinese community centre in this city.

A new worker, Miss Ruth Saunders, recently graduated from training school at Toronto, and appointed to work in the Peace River District, was welcomed.

During the afternoon, Miss Anne Firth, who won acclaim at the festival, sang two solos.

A package of cream cheese softened and blended with one-half cup apricot whole fruit nectar a small portion at a time, then combined with one tablespoon lemon juice, one-quarter cup mayonnaise and a little Tabasco sauce and salt makes a delicious salad dressing. It's really good on fruit salads or finely shredded cabbage.

Now a Pharmacist

Mrs. J. D. Brigham, the former Miss Frances May Rowbotham, received her bachelor of science degree in pharmacy in recent congregation exercises at University of British Columbia. Present for the ceremony were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rowbotham of this city, who traveled to Vancouver for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Brigham were married in Victoria last September and returned to U.B.C. to complete their studies. Mr. Brigham will graduate with a B.Sc. degree in pharmacy next year. The young couple are living in the mainland city.

Special Supper Program

Twenty members who have joined the club during the 1951-52 year were honored Monday evening at a supper meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club.

Membership chairman, Miss Bernice Harvey was in charge of arrangements. Seated at the head table with the president, Miss Elizabeth Forbes, and Miss Harvey, were the honor guests, Mrs. Allen Walters, Miss Margaret Burr, Miss Hilda Harding, Miss Anne Steel, Mrs. Esque Wingo, Miss Ruth King, Mrs. Rosalie Ballantyne, Mrs. Ada Sharman, Mrs. Ricki Nickells, Miss Emily Warburton, Mrs. Ellen Watson, Mrs. Milwyn Davies and a guest number from England, Miss Joan Peterkin.

New members honored in absentia were Mrs. Nesta Morris, at present traveling in Europe; Mrs. Catherine McArthur, Mrs. Hilda Weston, Mrs. Pearl Shiedel, Mrs. Lillian Soutar, Miss Hazel Talbeck, and Miss Sarah Popen. An earlier member of the club who had rejoined during the year. Other guests included Mrs. Peggy Inglis, Mrs. Jay Owen-Jones, Miss E. Lidster and Mrs. Tattam.

A novel program arranged by the new members included a meeting of the group, chaired by Mrs. Ricki Nickells, and presumably held 10 days ago when plans were being made for the evening. Miss Harding sang a group of songs; Mrs. Sharman spoke on short cuts to style and good grooming and Mrs. Nickells gave a reading.

Miss Elsie Richardson thanked the new members for their part in the program and Mrs. Eileen Fitz thanked the supper committee.

During the supper Miss Mary Cliff, a director, who is to be married in June, was presented with a corsage and a gift of linen from the club.

Blouses Keynote Summer Costumes

PARIS (Reuters) — Blouses from the simple pique models to freshen up a morning tailor-made costume, through silk print blouses to formal models in orlony or lace are the keynote to variety in summer costumes this season.

Prices, starting at less than $3 go up to couture models which cost nearly as much as a dress itself.

Expert handling and a good cut have transformed the once nondescript blouse into one of the smartest items of the wardrobe.

Blouses with full billowing sleeves accentuate this summer's demand for a wasp waist.

Lanvin features frilled "dandy" shirtwaists of the early 19th Century beauty.

These immaculately-tailored blouses in white batiste and linen feature prime high necks and long sleeves offset with frilly or pleated shirtfront ruffles.

Shantung and wild silk, besides small printed foulards and tie silks, are smartly styled in soft dressmaker blouses, with gilets or bow necklines which offset tailored suit revers.

Commons Votes to Extend Emergency, Credit Powers; Deterrent to War Says St. Laurent

OTTAWA, May 27 (CP).—With an eye on the "explosive" world situation, the Commons Monday approved extension for another year of the government's broad powers to make quick laws for the security, defense and welfare of the country.

Under the emergency powers, vested in the government following the 1950 outbreak of the Korean war, the government can make regulations without application to Parliament on a wide scale including the fields of communication, transport, trade and finance.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, asking extension of the powers, said they are necessary because an emergency still exists. He enumerated 19 orders passed under the Emergency Powers Act since adoption at the spring session of 1951.

Five concerned security regulations covering seamen serving on Great Lakes ships who were screened for Communist connections. Others fell into the category of priorities control, transport and import controls. One remained secret, though Opposition leaders were informed of it.

Mr. St. Laurent said Parliament has the power to challenge amend or nullify any of the orders, but none has been contested.

He added that Canada is not appropriating billions to meet international dangers in the expectation of actual warfare but as a deterrent to war. And while she is doing that it is desirable "that there be ready for use, if required, some extraordinary powers, though we sincerely hope that they may not have to be used."

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, spoke for almost two hours against prolonging the powers. He said that their full application can spell "the death warrant of democracy in Canada."

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre), speaking for the C.C.F., supported the extension.

The commons also extended to July 1, 1953, the government's

ONTARIO TOWN HAS BIRTHDAY

SIOUX LOOKOUT, Ont., May 27 (CP).—This northwestern Ontario town Monday observed its 40th birthday. Three days of celebrating marked the anniversary, including a beard-growing contest.

power to reimpose consumer credit regulations.

The extension was approved after Mr. Abbott accepted an amendment by J. M. Macdonnell (P.C., Toronto Greenwood) to cut the period to one year from two.

At the night sitting members got around to considering tariff and trade matters and these points came out:

1. Revenue Minister McCallum said there is no "dumping" of foreign goods in Canada so far as his investigators have been able to find.

2. Finance Minister Abbott believes that a measure before the U.S. congress for repeal of a tariff erected against Canadian cheese has a reasonable chance of approval by Washington.

3. Mr. Abbott thinks there are indications that "protectionist" sections in the U.S. are again attempting to get higher tariff walls to protect U.S. producers, but he doesn't think they will be successful.

144 Seeking Saskatchewan Seats

REGINA, May 27 (CP).—A total of 144 candidates are in the field for the 53 seats at stake in the June 11 Saskatchewan general election.

When nominations closed Monday, both the C.C.F. and Liberals had named candidates for every seat.

The remaining 38 candidates were in six categories.

There were 23 Social Crediters, eight Progressive Conservatives, three Independents, two Labor Progressives, one Independent Progressive Conservative and one Independent Liberal.

In the 1948 general election there were 149 candidates for 52 seats.

Since then a redistribution added one seat, giving Regina a third seat. Under redistribution, the boundaries of a number of constituencies were changed and some were given new names.

At dissolution, standing in the Legislature was C.C.F., 31; Liberals, 19; others, 2.

Both Premier T. C. Douglas and Liberal leader Walter Tucker are seeking re-election. The premier is a candidate in Weyburn.

Mr. Tucker in Rosthern. Both constituencies will see straight Liberal-C.C.F. contests.

VOTE LIBERAL for CONTINUED PROSPERITY

Breathe Freely
WITH KELLOGG'S
ASTHMA RELIEF

DO YOU WANT AN Establishment IN YOUR NEIGHBOURHOOD ?

A "Yes" vote on the Plebiscite will give the next Government the go-ahead to license bars and the sale of liquor in every "wet vote" area in British Columbia. Do you want that?

The Plebiscite reads—"Are you in favor of the sale of spirituous liquors and wine by the glass in establishments licensed for the purpose?" ESTABLISHMENTS licensed for such purpose CAN MEAN BARS ANYWHERE—in a better-class restaurant or in a neighbourhood workingman's cafe. There cannot be class legislation.

Residential land values depreciate in the neighbourhood of a bar. Vote "No" and protect your land values—vote "Yes" and you sign a blank cheque.

This is not a brief in favor of prohibition. It is rather a suggestion that you take a serious searching look at the problems involved before you sign a blank cheque.

A "No" vote is within your interests now. You have every right to know exactly what the liquor set-up will be before you take a stand. Let's have facts! Granted, our present liquor system is not satisfactory but grabbing at a pig-in-a-poke is not the answer. Let's find out "How" and "Where" and "by Whom" liquor by the glass will be sold. It affects you and your family vitally. Vote "No" until you get the whole picture.

Sister's Slayer Said No Word Before Fatal Shots Were Fired

By RON BAIRD
Holly Hudson, 11, said today she could recall nothing that was said by the man who killed her sister, Barbara Hudson, 23, before he fired the fatal shot.

Pretty, moon-faced Holly Hudson sat in the living-room of her family's pleasant Glasgow Ave. home and said that when 41-year-old R.C.M.P. Constable Delbert Kirkpatrick entered the family car last Saturday and sat in the back seat, he said not a word before he fired.

Holly and a friend of the slain girl sat stunned in the front seat of the family's new car and watched in horror as Kirkpatrick fired a bullet into Barbara's neck.

He then put his police revolver to his head and fired a shot that nine hours later resulted in his death at Jubilee Hospital.

As she told of the tragedy, Holly put her arm around the shaggy neck of Rex, a one-year-old Border Collie that Barbara Hudson had been given by her parents, and tried to erase the terrible events that occurred on the sun-filled city street May 24.

The murdered girl's parents still suffer from shock.

Holly has been kept from her lessons at school because, said her mother, "there would be too many questions asked."

Cynthia Day, 3145 Quadra, the other occupant of the front seat during the shooting, has been given leave of absence from her job.

She collapsed at work Monday.

WAGE DISPUTE MAY CLOSE TWO HOTELS

Employees Vote
Work Stoppage

Empress Hotel employees may walk off the job Tuesday unless a settlement is reached in their contract dispute.

The 350 employees concerned voted Thursday to reject a conciliation board recommendation, and to take strike action if necessary to support their demands for increased wages and shorter working hours.

At the same time close to 500 employees of the Hotel Vancouver will walk out in a co-ordinated action with the Empress employees.

Chief demands of the Empress employees are a 20-cent pay increase and 40-hour week. A conciliation board recommended an increase of 5 per cent in pay, and the present 44-hour week worked in alternate five and six-day weeks.

This action, if carried through, would close British Columbia's two biggest hotels at the outset of the busy tourist season.

A strike in the Empress would be the first ever staged in a C.P.R. hotel in Canada. Canadian National Railway hotels were closed for 10 days in 1950 during the rail strike.

Former Canuck Hockey Player R. Plumb Dead

KINGSTON, Ont., May 27 (CP)—Ron Plumb, 23-year-old member of Vancouver Canucks of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, died in hospital today. He performed for Canucks last season and scored 28 goals in 48 games.

Cause of his death was not immediately known.

The Toronto-born player also played with New York Rangers of the Eastern Amateur Hockey League and with St. Paul in the United States League. Earlier, he played with Guelph Biltmores in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A League.

U.K. Golfer Frightens Stranahan

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 27 (AP)—Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., bidding for his third British Amateur golf championship, had a scare today but he rallied to defeat Joe Gent, 53-year-old Englishman, one up on the 21st hole.

The victory, following an opening bye, placed the sparkplug heir in the third round with two other United States co-favorites—Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N.C., the defending titleholder, and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., U.S. amateur champion.

Stranahan, winner of the tournament in 1948 and 1950, was two down with two holes to play against the elderly Briton, a quarter-finalist last year. But the Ohio star won the 17th and 18th to carry the match into overtime.

Germany Told Not to Deviate

Britain and the U.S. thus served notice on Germany, in answer to French desires, that she must not attempt to withdraw from the European army on a lone-wolf course, once her armed forces are built up.

The declaration added that the three big powers considered their continued presence in Berlin as "essential elements of the peace of the free world in the present international position."

In addition, the members of N.A.T.O. and the European Army signed protocols pledging each organization to come to the help of the other in the event of armed attack—a guarantee chiefly to West Germany.

Foreign Aid Bill Saved Cut

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—The Senate beat down today a move to chop an additional $1,000,000,000 off President Truman's $7,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

The vote was 35 to 27.

Fairweather Judgment Thursday

VANCOUVER, May 27 (CP)—Judgment was reserved by Court of Appeal today in the appeal of Albert Fairweather, 25, who was convicted of the murder of Raymond Boyce, 25-year-old logger near Duncan, Sept. 20.

Chief Justice Sloan said judgment will be given on Thursday.

Gas Threat to Mainland Harbor

VANCOUVER, May 27 (CP)—Off-duty firemen were called to guard the shores of Burrard Inlet today after thousands of gallons of fuel oil and kerosene were spilled from exploding barrels at a $20,000 fire at the Shellburn Dock today.

Patrols have been posted to guard against cigarette butts and matches being thrown into the oil on the water.

Acting Fire Chief Loren Foley said that burning material thrown into the harbor during ebb tide could cause a major conflagration.

European Army Treaty Signed

Russia Warned That Big Three Will Consider
Any Communist Attack as Threat to Security

PARIS, May 27 (AP)—The Big Three powers backed up the six-country European army pact today with a new declaration that they would consider a Communist attack on Berlin, West Germany or any other part of free Europe a "threat to their own security."

The declaration was coincident with the signing of the army pact and related agreements by France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg which, when ratified, will merge their armed forces into a single army of 1,000,000 men—history's first peacetime international force.

The pact is a companion to the peace treaty signed at Bonn Monday by the three western powers and the West German republic.

Just before the ceremonies Communists cut telephone communications between East and West Berlin and 17 long-distance lines between Berlin and West Germany. Russian border guards again stopped Allied jeeps from patrolling Berlin's highway link with the west.

The new declaration by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France and State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States, said:

"The government of the United Kingdom and the U.S. have an abiding interest, as has the government of France, in the effectiveness of the treaty creating the European defense community and in the strength and integrity of that community."

"Accordingly, if any action from whatever quarter threatens the integrity or unity of the community, the two governments will regard this as a threat to their own security."

France, in the European army pact, already is linked with West Germany in mutual defense.

Britain and the U.S. thus served notice on Germany, in answer to French desires, that she must not attempt to withdraw from the European army on a lone-wolf course, once her armed forces are built up.

The declaration added that the three big powers considered their continued presence in Berlin as "essential elements of the peace of the free world in the present international position."

In addition, the members of N.A.T.O. and the European Army signed protocols pledging each organization to come to the help of the other in the event of armed attack—a guarantee chiefly to West Germany.

The signing starts about 5 p.m. in the ornate Clock Room of the French foreign ministry. With the treaty and eight related agreements to be endorsed, the process will be a long one.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer leads the alphabetical parade of nations—"Allemagne" is French for German.

The basic treaty provides for the six-nation European Defense Community and its single armed force.

The agreements cover secret military arrangements for actual deployment of the European army and such relationships as those between the E.D.C. and N.A.T.O.

Seaman Stricken Aboard Weathership

H.M.C.S. Ontario is today racing against time across 800 miles of open Pacific to bring medical aid to an injured Victoria boy aboard O.C.S. Stonetown, the weather ship at Station Peter.

The boy, a 17-year-old waiter in the ship, is K. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Stevens, 18 Hampton Road.

Exact nature of his injury is not known, but on May 1st, he had his appendix removed, and Monday night he fell heavily against a metal fire extinguisher, and sharp, heavy pains in the region of his appendix resulted.

Capt. James McMunagle, master of Stonetown, wirelessed department of transport agent T. E. Morrison that the boy's temperature was 97, and his pulse down to 56, and that pains were recurring at intervals of two or three minutes.

Mr. Morrison appealed to the Royal Canadian Navy's Pacific Command for help, and at 2 a.m. today, Ontario was ordered to break off her training voyage to San Diego and make a meet with Stonetown.

At the same time, Stonetown left her weather station and headed for the rendezvous with the cruiser, which is equipped with a complete sick bay and operating facilities, in charge of Surgeon-Commander J. W. Rogers.

The ships, which were about 800 miles apart, expected to meet about midnight tonight. Meanwhile, Ontario is in communication with Stonetown, and medical instructions are being sent.

The Victoria doctors who performed the appendectomy on young Stevens have wirelessed his case history to the two ships.

Weather is reported as "fairly good," although a 30-knot wind was blowing at Station Peter last night. Air-Sea Rescue headquarters in Vancouver ruled out a plane landing as too dangerous for the patient in the deep, rolling Pacific swells.

Surgeon-Commander Rogers is now in charge of the case, and will decide whether to take the patient into Ontario's sick bay, or rush him to shore.

Ontario left Victoria Monday morning on the first leg of a training cruise to San Diego, Vancouver and Alaska.

Mrs. Stevens, mother of the injured boy, is herself recuperating from an accident. She has a broken leg.
